RELIGION IS THE BASIS OF REFORM, SAYS PRESIDENT

Bridge Declares That Religion Must Be Placed on This, Rather Than on Statutes.

REVIVAL PRECEDED REVOLUTIONARY WAR

Executive Speaks at Unveiling of Monument to Francis Asbury, Pioneer Methodist Bishop.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 15.—Religion was the basis of the American Revolution, said President Coolidge today, speaking at the unveiling of a statue to Francis Asbury, pioneer Methodist Episcopal Church bishop.

"We cannot depend upon the government," the President declared, "to do the work of religion. A reform is being or has been accomplished, but it does not last. The government of a country never gets out of the religion of a country."

Religion was described by the President as the foundation of this country. It is a result of the thinking of Bishop Asbury, he declared, that "our country has developed so much better."

JUSTICE BRANDEIS' WIFE DECLARES FOR LA FOLLETTE

Commends Senator's Foreign Policy, Especially With Reference to Latin America.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 14.—Mrs. Alice G. Brandeis, wife of Louis D. Brandeis, Associate Justice of the Supreme Court, has taken up the La Follette fight and is assisting the campaign of the Wisconsin Senator.

Mrs. Brandeis does not intend to go on the stump, like Mrs. La Follette, but she is rated as one of the enthusiastic La Follette backers, is highly interested in his candidacy and is working for him among her friends.

The Justice's wife gave out, through the La Follette-Wheeler headquarters, an endorsement of Senator La Follette's foreign policy, making special reference to American expansion in Latin America.

ABOARD LA FOLLETTE CAR, EN ROUTE TO DES MOINES, Ia., Oct. 15.—The extent of Senator Brookhart's secession from the Republican party became evident today when he joined Senator La Follette's party at Moulton, Ia., and rode to Albia with him.

Brookhart is telling his audience about the State that, unless Charles G. Dawes gets off the Republican ticket and unless President Coolidge espouses the principles of farm relief contained in the McNary-Haugen and Norris-Sinclair bills, that La Follette will carry Iowa by 150,000. This is simply his way of declaring for La Follette without saying so outright.

Nobody here has the slightest doubt that Brookhart will vote for La Follette. Nobody has any doubt that he is doing all he can to help him in the Iowa campaign and nobody seems to doubt that Brookhart himself will be elected by an overwhelming plurality. La Follette told his former audience at Moulton about the refusal of the Bankers' Life Insurance Co. to permit the broadcasting of his Des Moines speech, and drew expressions of indignation.

M'KELVEY'S SECRETARY NAMED DIRECTOR OF PUBLIC SAFETY

John H. Christophel, 39 years old, who has been secretary to the Director of Public Safety at a salary of $2400 a year, was appointed by Mayor Kiel today to the position of Director at $3000 a year, succeeding James N. McKelvey, resigned.

BANKS FORCED U.S. TO DECLARE WAR, LA FOLLETTE SAYS

Senator, Before Audience of 8000, Makes His Most Direct Statement on Foreign Relations.

"HUGHES GUIDED BY PRIVATE INTERESTS"

Meeting Marked by First Hostile Disorder in Seven Cities in Which Senator Has Spoken.

By PAUL V. ANDERSON, A Staff Correspondent of the Post-Dispatch Traveling With Senator La Follette.

In the most direct and comprehensive statement which he has yet delivered upon the subject of foreign relations, Senator La Follette, speaking before an audience of more than 8000 at the Coliseum last night, vigorously assailed the policy which led the United States into the World War and declared that the same policy is being pursued by the present administration.

The traditional American policy of "peace, commerce and honest friendship with all nations; entangling alliances with none," was completely abandoned under the Harding-Coolidge administration, he said, and the Harding-Coolidge administration, elected upon a pledge to restore the oil policy, has completely repudiated that pledge.

"The foreign policy of our State Department," he asserted, "is a series of mistakes. As Standard Oil has shaped our foreign policy in matters relating to a natural resource, so Morgan & Co. has shaped it in questions of international finance."

Hughes has two masters, he added. "It is said that no man can serve two masters. Hughes can serve both Standard Oil and Morgan, and he serves them with constant fidelity."

His criticism of the course pursued by President Wilson, leading up to the declaration of war, was far more detailed and specific than any he has uttered during the campaign. The declaration of war, he said, from pressure brought upon President Wilson by Morgan and Co. and associated banks, which were overdrawn by the Allies to the extent of $400,000,000, with contracts for $800,000,000 more maturing in six months. The bonds of Great Britain and France had been underwritten by American bankers, and the houses of Morgan, Kuhn, Loeb and Co. were the policy which was saved by being underwritten by the United States Government, Senator La Follette asserted.

JANET COLLINS' ROMANCE ENDS IN SEPARATION

Man Whom She Married Yesterday Followed Her From Peru; Agree It Was "All a Mistake."

FRIENDSHIP BEGAN IN SOUTH AMERICA

Secretary of Peruvian Legation at Rome Returned on Same Boat and They Eloped to County.

The romance of Miss Janet Lee Collins of 5 Hortense place, a former Velled Prophet's maid, and Jose Francisco Mariategui, secretary of the Peruvian legation at Rome, came to a sudden end last evening when they announced to her parents that they had eloped to Clayton and had been married by a Justice of the Peace.

Informing that their marriage, which followed acquaintance of the bride and groom, was a mistake, the bride and groom mutually agreed to separate, the former Miss Collins remaining at her parents' home and Mariategui leaving St. Louis last night, ordering his baggage sent to Union Station.

Followed Her From Peru. The romance had its inception last summer when Miss Collins accompanied her parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. D. Collins on a tour of South America. In Peru they met and were entertained by Mariategui's family and an attachment developed between Miss Collins and Mariategui. When the tourists started back to St. Louis, Mariategui followed, and it is understood, was on the same boat. About 10 days ago the Collins family arrived home, and shortly afterward Mariategui registered at Hotel Chase.

At 4:15 p. m. yesterday the Collins limousine parked in front of the courthouse at Clayton. The newlyweds, who had been married while the couple went inland and obtained a marriage license, Mariategui giving his age as 24 and Miss Collins as 21. Crossing the street to the office of Justice of the Peace Werremeyer, they asked to be married, and Werremeyer summoned his stenographer, Miss Anna Heller, to be a legal witness.

After the ceremony the bridegroom and his bride, by both hands in appreciation of her services. Miss Heller today described him as "very romantic" in appearance. He wore a dark suit and black derby and carried a bamboo cane. Miss Collins was attired in a blue suit and black turban. The bride couple conversed in Spanish, laughed frequently and seemed quite at ease. Asked by Werremeyer if he would reside here, Mariategui replied negatively and said he would depart shortly for Peru. He and his bride were driven back toward St. Louis in the limousine and a few hours later had agreed it was all a mistake.

The bride is a graduate of Mary Institute and also attended Holton Arms, Washington, D. C. She was a maid at the Velled Prophet's ball November 11 at the St. Louis Club. She is a member of the Junior League and Imperial Club.

NEW YORK GIVEN THRILL BY SILVER WHALE OF SKIES

ZR-3, Coming From Old World, to Military-Minded, Could Have Destroyed City.

WIDER OF GIRTH THAN SHENANDOAH

Her Lines Are Not So Graceful and for the Present She Is Carrying Dangerous Hydrogen Gas

Special to the Post-Dispatch. (Copyright, 1924.) NEW YORK, Oct. 15.—The Zeppelin ZR-3 sailed across New York City today as a reminder or a warning of what the next "world war" may bring. She sailed the entire length of Manhattan island, then calmly turned and sailed back again. Then she circled. Theoretically the city was "destroyed." Army and Navy folk like to play at the game of "destroying" cities.

But this time it was a German crew and a German Captain, sailing in a super-bus direct from the Zeppelin works at Friedrichshafen to the metropolis of the new world that it is not so all-fired immune as it sometimes is supposed to be. American-built Shenandoah has often been seen in the New York skies, but she is a home-bred and only dropped in from New Jersey.

With the French Government claims for loans made to Russia before the war, the total due to France at the outbreak of the war was about 19,000,000,000 francs. The commission on Franco-Russian affairs presided over by Senator de Monzie, expects to complete the text of the recognition decision today and if it succeeds in doing so the Cabinet will formally adopt this text at its next meeting of Friday.

ABOUT 17,000 FUR BELTS SOLD HERE FOR $707,000

Prices Paid for Government Offering 20 to 35 Per Cent Higher Than at April Sale in New York. About 74,000 Government seal skins and fox and other skins were sold at auction today by the Fur Co. at the International Fur Exchange, for $707,335. The prices paid were 20 to 35 per cent higher than at the April sale in New York.

The 1010 raw salted skins, the first offered in ten years, brought $7943. Prices ranged $9 to $10 for extra large, $8.25 to $8.75 for large, $7.75 to $9.50 for medium and $7.50 for small.

FRANCE WILL GIVE RECOGNITION TO RUSSIA FRIDAY

Will Reserve All Rights of Government and Citizens in Loans and Bonds Totalling Billions.

By the Associated Press. PARIS, Oct. 15.—The French Government will on Friday formally recognize the Soviet Republic of Russia, according to information obtained in official circles, this morning.

Announcement was made that the de jure recognition of Russia would be made under such terms as to reserve the rights of the French citizens, who hold Russian bonds to the amount of $2,000,000,000 gold francs, and who have business interests in Russia.

Interest centered in the 2000 sealskins finished in golden russet with the new Fouke dye. Charged DOR, 31ds averaged $65 for large, $55 for medium and $45 for small. The total was $95,321. The offering of 787 blue fox brought $40,000, 15 white fox $33, and four sea otter $1040.

GERMANY WILL GET REPARATION CREDIT OF $2,200,000 FOR ZR-3

WASHINGTON, Oct. 15.—Approximately $2,200,000 will be credited as a German reparation payment to the United States when the ZR-3 is formally accepted by this Government.

The air cruiser represents the American share of a special reparation assessed against Germany because of the destruction, after the armistice, in the Friedrichshafen plant of a half dozen complete or partially complete war Zeppelins which were under the armistice terms. Germany had agreed to turn over to her late enemies.

Upon inquiry initiated by the United States, the Council of Ambassadors, sitting in Paris in 1921, agreed to permit Germany to replace one ship as the portion of the United States, attaching the condition that the new ship should never be used for military purposes.

The ZR-3 has a capacity of 2,400,000 cubic feet, and American airship constructors estimated that a little less than $1 a cubic foot of gas capacity would be a fair reparation credit. In case several ships were built from the same plans, they said, the cost might be reduced to 75 cents a cubic foot.

OWNER OF WISE COUNSELLOR CHARGED WITH EXTORTION

Frederick Burton, Coal Company Head, Sued for $500,000 in Two Actions.

By the Associated Press. CHICAGO, Oct. 15.—Frederick Burton, president of the Burton Coal Co. and owner of Wise Counsellor, the race horse, which beat Epineur in the first International race, is charged with extorting $400,000 in two damage suits on trial here.

One suit, brought by Mrs. Frank Crozier, wife of an attorney, charged Burton with extorting $100,000 from her by threats that he would have her husband disbarred because of malpractice. Although Burton's charge was denied, she said, she turned over to him securities to the amount of $101,000, which she asked in damages.

The second suit asked $300,000 damages, and was brought by James H. McElvaine, former president of a coal company. He charged the amount was extorted from him by Burton as a party to the alleged criminal action of Attorney Crozier.

ZEPPELIN IN FINE LANDING AFTER GREAT OCEAN TRIP

Tractability of Giant Craft and Great Airmanship of Her Crew Cheered by Thousands.

SWINGS EASILY TO MOORINGS

"New World's Record," Says Dr. Eckener, Commander, When He Alights on Floor of Hangar.

By Associated Press. LAKEHURST, N. J., Oct. 15.—The cabin of the ZR-3 came lightly to rest upon the earth at Lakehurst Field at 9:55 a. m. today, and 50 minutes later, at 10:45, she was safe in her berth inside the naval air station here.

She had completed her journey from Friedrichshafen, Germany, a distance estimated at 8000 miles, in 81 hours and 35 minutes. Thirty-four minutes after she was sighted, her motors stopped. For a moment she drifted easily, bobbing up and down like a boat in a rolling swell.

She made a beautiful landing. Appearing over the northern edge of this naval air station at 9:15 a. m., she drove straight over the airfield to the far edge of the field, where she headed around, and skirted the station for a quarter of its circumference, before nosing downward into the groves and coming to a stop before the airframe.

Like a silver sled, she glided ball on a Christmas tree as she settled downward head on. She came so slowly that she looked like an inanimate object, suspended by invisible strings.

Bright past the red and white signal on the ground which indicated her chosen landing place, she glided. It appeared that she intended to halt into the airframe, but the pilot of the ZR-3 contemplated no such spectacular exhibition. When within 200 yards of the towering drome a trapdoor flopped open from the bottom of the main cabin and out dropped a bundle of rope as big as a barrel.

Another trapdoor opened and another coil of rope tumbled below. Signal horns and bell forced somewhere out of sight in the stanch craft. Whistles shrieked below. Sailors and marines hooked their spider web ropes harness into the trailing tow lines of the dirigible and almost without effort drew her gently down.

Dr. Hugo Eckener, commander of the airship and president of the Zeppelin company, smiling, but stern-voiced, was recognized by a little group of German citizens who crowded the State police and sailors guards to shout their congratulations.

Maj. F. M. Kennedy, in the uniform of the United States army, stood at another porthole, smiling as he bowed happily to the crowd.

A mighty shout went up from thousands as the air vessel settled. "Please don't make so much noise," shouted Commander J. E. Klein Jr., commander of the Lakehurst station and passenger on the ZR-3, as he leaned from a forward cabin port. The din of welcome was silenced instantly, and a clear, sharp order of the navigators to the grounding crew rang out distinctly.

Remained in Good Shape. Then, one after another, the more arduous duties of landing were completed. All four of the American officers aboard the dirigible were presented in view, side by side with the German navigators in the cabin ports.

All looked glowingly happy. They were clean shaven, their uniforms were crisp and neat. They did not even look tired. They appeared in no hurry to leave the ship.

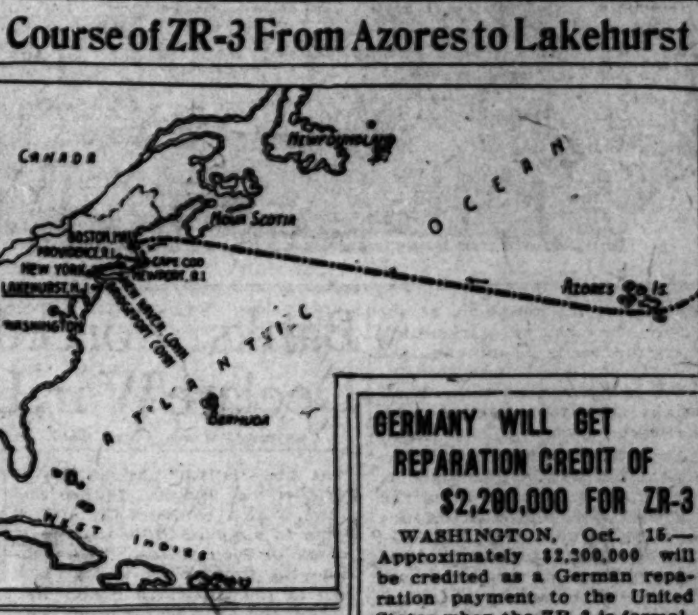

The doors at the end of the dirigible were closed and the Land Ownership and Social Esteem

The primal basis of respect to America is land ownership. Ownership comes next. It is the basis of industry and citizenship.

Of all the material things a man may own his home is the most important. It is the only thing that is a bulwark against future privations in his community.

It gives him added esteem and standing with his fellowmen.

Add, therefore, to your other good qualities, that of land ownership. Buy a home. The Post-Dispatch Real Estate column will be an invaluable aid in helping you find the right place.

JURYWOMEN, LOCKED UP WITH MEN, BECOME HYSTERICAL

Indiana Judge Dismisses Panel When Feminine Members Protest Further Deliberation.

By the Associated Press. EVANSVILLE, Ind., Oct. 15.—A jury of six men and six women, which had been locked up for the greater part of the night while attempting to reach a verdict in a liquor law violation case, was discharged today when three of the women became hysterical when they were told they would be locked up for further deliberations.

Judge Philip C. Gould dismissed the jury because of the women's condition.

The jury received the case yesterday afternoon and was locked up until 1 o'clock this morning when the jurywomen became hysterical and Judge Gould ordered their release until this morning.

By the Associated Press. CHICAGO, Oct. 15.—A shortage of over $50,000 in the accounts of the National Life Insurance Co. of the United States here has been disclosed, and the police have started search for Ralph Bigelow, 33 years old, the company's cashier, who has disappeared.

Bigelow's room, detectives said they found a notebook containing the names of 50 women, with one of whom they think he fled. The alleged peculations, if confirmed over a period of two years, they said.

VARIETY AUDIENCE HEARD ADDRESS OF LA FOLLETTE

Socialists, Union Labor and Foreign Born Largely Represented in Crowd at Coliseum.

ABOUT $5500 WAS RAISED BY MEETING

Of This Amount $2728
Was Taken Up by Collectors—Remainder Received by Sale of Seats.

Senator La Follette's Coliseum speech last night was heard by an audience probably the largest that ever paid to hear a political speaker in St. Louis. It was an audience remarkable in its composition, noticeably unlike the audiences usually seen at political or public gatherings. Well-known faces were few, even on the stage.

The Socialists formed a large element. They are used to paying admission to political meetings, and many of them bought the best seats, which sold at 50 cents, plus war tax, in the boxes and near the stage.

Union Labor Represented. Labor union members were another large element, many of the union people being also of the Socialist contingent. But the outstanding aspect of the audience, as judged by several inspections from the aisles, was that it contained so many of the foreigners.

Members of foreign organizations, and some of the labor union representatives, were active as ushers and collectors. The latter duty was an important one, for the receipts of the night provided only one-half the money which was raised by the meeting for the payment of its own expenses and for the campaign in this State. The total it was stated today was about $5500, of which $2728.27 was taken up by collectors, and the remainder was received from the sale of seats.

The managers of the meeting complain that they were led to believe that the stage would be at the east side of the arena, as it usually is for political meetings. Tickets were provided on that basis. Instead, the Vellie Prophet stage, at the south end, was used. The result was that the seating capacity of the arena was reduced by 100 and that in the rear, one-third of the balcony and gallery, it was impossible to hear Senator La Follette. The occupants of those sections either went home or stood at the sides in positions nearer the stage.

Film Is Shown. The arena and balcony where the seats had been sold were filled a half hour before the speaking began. The gallery, where seats were free, filled slowly, but when the meeting began most of the seats there were taken.

Before the speaking, a film, "The Spirit of 1924," was shown, which presented its figures in this succession: Washington, Jefferson, Lincoln, La Follette. A little later, Woodrow Wilson and Theodore Roosevelt were also shown, and utterances of both, commendatory of La Follette, were presented, with out the less favorable comments which they made upon him at later times. The film also showed an interview between a distressed farmer and a banker, and a scene in which a farmer was being evicted from his land.

Philip La Follette Speaks. Philip La Follette, son of the Senator, quoted Jefferson and Lincoln repeatedly in his short address. He said, in conclusion of a story published in yesterday's Globe-Democrat, that taxes were lower in Wisconsin than in Minnesota or Michigan, though Illinois had a lower rate than Wisconsin. He also talked of the charge that his father was disloyal in wartime, and attributed this to a single misquotation of one of his speeches. He saluted Candidate Davies as "the great military hero of the R. O. S. and defender of the Constitution." He introduced the subject of a collection by quoting his father's remark that his son would fund "smells of tell, not of oil."

F. C. Howe, former Commissioner of Immigration, who is the financial supporter of the La Follette tour, made a talk, but when the actual getting of the money came, O. E. Jennings of St. Louis proved a much more effective "barker." The attempt to get a string of $100 and $50 contributions did not succeed, but it was announced that R. S. Smiley, Presiding Judge of the County Court of St. Louis County, gave $200, and the chairman, Lehigh, gave $100. When the first collection was taken, the audience, most of those who had paid at the door gave again.

ZR-3 at Her Hangar in Friedrichshafen wholly about the problems of the farmer. He dwelt on agricultural matters for nearly 15 minutes, and the audience, which was less interested in agriculture than in almost any other topic, settled down into silence.

It was evident that the audience was almost wholly a friendly one, but it did not care much about the McNary-Haugen bill, and its applause was perfunctory, until, after a short hiatus, caused by difficulty in holding his manuscript on the sloping table before him, Senator La Follette began to talk about foreign relations.

At this point interest visibly increased. In a few minutes the more aroused gathering was hearing an argument not unlike those which were heard in the same hall nearly 10 years before, when the so-called American Neutrality League met there to protest against the sale of munitions for the defense of invaded France.

Picturing neutrality as a national virtue, from which this country should never have departed, Senator La Follette presently asserted that the United States should not have "permitted" England to lay mines in the North Sea. He did not say whether he thought such an attitude would have led to war between this country and England.

During this part of the speech, and while the speaker was condemning President Wilson's course, a voice from the balcony at the rear called, "How about the Lusitania?" This was not an inappropriate question, if the interrupting of a speaker is ever appropriate. As the Senator started to answer, there were demands to "put him out." Senator La Follette said that no one should be put out, and went on.

After this, the interruptions were frequent, and most of them were neither appropriate nor logical. Toward the end, they led to disorder which stopped the speaker for several minutes, and which was abated only when several men were ejected from the rear gallery, and one was arrested.

Dan Murphy, president of the Central Trades and Labor Union, and Dan K. Murphy, secretary, were seated on the stage. Murphy said, after the meeting, that he believed more than one-half the audience consisted of union men and their wives, many of these being Socialists. He said, however, that he had never been so united upon one candidate as it is now upon La Follette. Murphy said, Kyrle, repeated a prediction which he had made only a few days ago, that 90 per cent of the labor union membership of St. Louis would vote for La Follette.

The labor leaders said the speech was satisfactory to them, though it contained but brief references to labor specifically. John P. Leahy, chairman, was highly pleased with the speech, and charged that the interruptions and boos at the end were the work of the Ku Klux Klan. William M. Brandt, Socialist candidate for Governor, and one of those in charge of the meeting, made the same charge.

A. Linenfelder, head of the German-American Citizens League, said he agreed with La Follette as to most of the points in the speech, but that he would have been willing to hear more about agriculture, as he believed that city dwellers need a better understanding of the farmers' problems.

C. J. Smith, Seventeenth Ward member of the La Follette Campaign Committee, said: "That was a splendid speech. It suited the foreign-born people, and it was all right for the labor people who know that La Follette is for them."

The Associated Press is respectfully advised that the following is a list of the names of the persons who were present at the meeting, and who were not mentioned in the preceding paragraphs: (List of names follows, including names like R. S. Smiley, F. C. Howe, etc.)

CROWD AT QUINCY FAIR GIVES DAVIS WARM GREETING

Candidate Draws Chorus of "Ayes" on Verbal Poll on Democratic Tax Plan.

By CHARLES G. ROSS,
The Chief Washington Correspondent of the Post-Dispatch.

QUINCY, Ill., Oct. 15.—A crowd of several thousand, made up largely of farmers, heard John W. Davis at the Quincy fairgrounds here this afternoon. The grandstand and a large space on the track in front of it were filled. License tags on many of the cars parked around the grounds showed that a considerable portion of the audience had come across the river from Missouri.

The meeting was the climax of an enthusiastic celebration of "Davis Day" by the Democrats of this section. The candidate was met by a demonstrative throng on his arrival from Springfield, and was cheered throughout the route of a parade through the city. A band headed the procession of cars bearing the Davis party and another band brought up the rear. Quincy was having its first look at a presidential candidate since Bryan during the early days of his campaigns and the city made the most of the occasion.

Davis was warmly applauded when he appeared on the speakers' platform. Jutting out into the track from the grandstand, a band raised the already high spirits of the audience by playing "Dixie." By this time there was a closely packed standing crowd on the space of nearly a city block on the river front.

Nearly "Under the Wire." Davis was introduced by Emory Lancaster, who said that, as a delegate to the Democratic national convention, he was proud to have Davis for a candidate. Davis was greeted with cheers and cries of "bully for Davis." He got on good terms with the audience immediately by talking about the election in terms of a "straw vote," as he said, on the Mellon taxation plan. He asked all those with incomes of $17,000 and over to express their approval of the Mellon plan by voting "Aye."

The audience laughed. He then called for an expression by all those who preferred the Democratic plan and a great chorus of "Ayes" went up. Homely analogies, which he described the "straw vote" as a "straw vote," were used to explain the plan. Two policemen also appeared there, and several of the hecklers were dragged from their seats. It appeared from the floor that Davis was being roughly handled by the crowd, and La Follette called: "No, none of that, please. The way to end it is just to do it quietly."

The audience was as closely attentive as any that Davis has addressed during the campaign. Not a word was said about the effect of arousing a strong sentiment in the Senator's favor, and he concluded the remaining five minutes of his address with closer attention than he had received elsewhere. After returning to his car, following the meeting, he admitted being "mad clear through" about the "spade."

Touches on Agriculture. In contrast, he announced with considerable heat that the broadcasting station at Des Moines, Ia., where he speaks tonight, had refused to broadcast his speech, although it had accorded that privilege to other candidates.

500 COLLEGE STUDENTS ON STRIKE, CLASSES SUSPENDED
By the Associated Press.
CLEMSON COLLEGE, S. C., Oct. 15.—Classes were suspended at Clemson College, the State's military, agricultural and mechanical college, has been suspended pending a settlement of the situation that arose yesterday, when nearly half the student body of 1000 members went on a strike in protest against the suspension of a student and as a mark of dissatisfaction with the new hall fare.

Possibility of the entire student body leaving was seen following meeting today of the cadets, who remained, at which resolutions were adopted appointing a committee to confer with college officials and to present the student demands, one of which was understood to provide for the reinstatement of all those who left the campus.

Acting President S. B. Earle announced that he would meet the committee as soon as it should receive a request from it.

The cadet whose punishment precipitated the walkout was R. F. (Butch) Holohan, president of the senior class and member of the senior class, who was suspended for "conduct unbecoming a student." He had been drinking.

ZR-3 Makes Perfect Landing at Lakehurst, N.J.

drove had been drawn apart to receive the visitor. She landed near these doors, but because of a slight change in the direction of the breeze, it was decided to lead her across the western threshold instead.

So, slowly and majestically, she was eased the length of the great building, swung around at the western portal and headed for the dim-lit cavern which was to be her home.

Heavy Weather Encountered. Dr. Eckener jubilantly declared as his feet touched the concrete floor of the air-drome: "Gentlemen, a new world's record—5000 miles of continuous flight."

"The first part of our voyage was fine," Dr. Eckener continued. "The last part was full of heavy weather. From 5 a. m. Tuesday morning we battled against the weather with a velocity of 55 to 60 miles per hour. We changed our course from the direct line we were pursuing from the Azores to Lakehurst because we found ourselves heading into a southwest wind which was rising, and a small low pressure area."

Monday evening we were making 45 miles an hour. We headed toward Nova Scotia into a southwest wind, then came along at great speed along the coast southward, passing between the scout cruisers Milwaukee and Detroit but seeing neither.

A favoring wind pushed us toward Lakehurst, past Boston and on to New York, at a rate of 90 miles an hour. So, gentlemen, we are here."

Immediately after she was fast, her navigating officers and crew disembarked. Officers climbed into her hull and cabin with mechanics to begin an inspection of the gas bags' duraluminum structure and motors.

The wives of Capt. Steele, Commander Klein and Maj. Kennedy and Lieutenant Commander Krause's two sisters were here to greet the officers.

After circling Manhattan five times the ship headed for Lakehurst, N. J.

ZR-3's Voyage Fourth Successful Non-Stop Flight Across Atlantic
By the Associated Press.
LAKEHURST, N. J., Oct. 15.—The safe arrival of the ZR-3 from Germany marks the fourth successful attempt of humans to span the Atlantic ocean in a nonstop flight.

Aeronauts experts of army and navy regard it as the most significant of the most spectacular flight. They declared that the dirigible is destined to be the intercontinental passenger ship of the near future.

The British team of Alcock and Brown, their royal flying corps men, took the air at St. John's, N. F., in a Vickers-Vimy biplane on June 14, 1919. Eleven hours and twelve minutes later, having traversed 1,932 miles of sea and fog, they plunged with their aircraft into a bog near Clifden, Ireland.

Hardly had nations ceased to gasp over the audacity of Alcock and Brown when the British dirigible R-34 rose from Fort Rye, Scotland, one day in July. She turned her nose toward America and with her west 20 men—one of them a stowaway. After 105 hours the R-34 reached Mineola, Long Island. A few days later she headed homeward, arriving in England after a uneventful passage.

Tragedies of the Air. Subsequent attempts to equal or surpass the cruise of the R-34 ended in tragedy. The R-35, sold by Great Britain to the United States, was consumed by flame and explosion, followed by a disastrous fall of 110, on a trial flight, under British-American command, over Hull, England.

A like fate attended the maiden flight of the Roma, acquired by the United States from Italy, set out to cross the Atlantic in a dirigible. She was destroyed by the air at Aberdeen, Md. Explosion destroyed the craft over Hampton Roads, Va., and a heavy load of lives marked the failure of the second attempt.

In the third major dirigible disaster, the R-38, sold by Great Britain to the United States, was consumed by flame and explosion, followed by a disastrous fall of 110, on a trial flight, under British-American command, over Hull, England.

County Liberal Party Files Ticket
Eight Democratic and Three Republican Nominees Adopted.
Eight regular Democratic nominees for county office and three Republicans are adopted by the Liberal party of St. Louis County on its county ticket, filed with the Board of Election Commissioners at Clayton yesterday. In addition are two candidates included who do not appear on other tickets.
The five are Timothy J. Callahan, 5139 Pymouth avenue, nominee for Representative, First District; James John Shaugnessy, 2444 Bartmer avenue, nominated for Judge of the County Court, First District; Fred C. Meyer, 1889 Ridgeway avenue, nominated for Treasurer; Charles F. Leonard, 2127 Edmund avenue, Pine Lawn, nominated for Public Administrator; and John Mueller of St. Ferdinand township.
From the Democratic ticket the Liberal party has chosen these nominees: For Representative, Second District, Mrs. Malvina Thurman Smith, 7171 Kingsbury; for Representative, Third District, Joseph Coulter, 113 West Madison street, Kirkwood; Judge of the County Court, Second District, Robert P. Sargent of Valley Park; Sheriff, Wilfred Jones, 3445 Mo.; Sheriff, now Assistant Prosecuting Attorney of St. Louis County, Treasurer, Edward J. Fitzgerald, R. F. D. No. 14, Wellston; Mo.; Coroner, Luke Hart Therman, 3113 Jennings road, Pine; Mo.; Constable Central Township, George H. Skillman of Richland Heights, and Constable Meramec Township, John W. Walter, R. F. D. 23, Ghesterfield, Mo.
The Republicans adopted by the Liberal ticket are Roy Jablonsky, R. F. D. No. 2, Clayton, nominee for Surveyor; Louis H. Holman, 125 East Clinton place, Kirkwood, Constable, Bonhomme Township, and William F. Knight, 241 Parkside avenue, Luxembourg, nominee for Constable Carondelet Township.
DECLINES TO COMMENT ON SUICIDE OF FORMER SECRETARY
Dr. Eugene J. Neville, in Whose Apartment Miss Irene Hammond Killed Self, Now in Nebraska.
NORTH PLATTE Neb., Oct. 15.—Dr. Eugene J. Neville, in whose apartment at 4877 Washington avenue, University City, Miss. Irene Hammond, his former nurse and secretary, shot and killed herself Friday, has been visiting here and returned here yesterday from a hunting trip.
Admitting that Miss Hammond had worked for years in his office in the Wall Building, St. Louis, Dr. Neville asked to be excused from commenting on her death or the farwell note which she left, in this note, addressed to "Gene" and signed "Irene," she complained he had her aside after 28 years' association.
A Coroner's verdict of suicide was returned Monday night. No autopsy was served on Dr. Neville to attend the inquest. Mrs. Neville was in Chicago when Miss Hammond ended her life in the Neville apartment.

35c "Danderine" does Wonders for Any Girl's Hair
Girls! Try this! You can't comb and dress your hair, but you can't wash it with a little "Danderine" and brush it through your hair. The effect is startling! You can do your hair up in minutes! And it will appear before you that you have a mass of gleamy hair, sparkling with life and becomingly and luxuriously soft, fresh and luxuriant.
While beautifying the hair "Danderine" is also killing and eliminating each single hair as you think, long and strong. Hair stops falling out and starts growing again. Get a bottle of "Danderine" at any drug or toilet counter and just use it. You'll be amazed at the results. Add this delightful, refreshing, conditioning.

for Any Girl's Hair

Girls! Try this! When combing and dressing your hair, just moisten your hairbrush with a little "Danderine" and brush it through your hair. The effect is startling! You can do your hair up immediately and it will appear twice as thick and heavy—a mass of gleamy hair, sparkling with life and possessing that incomparable softness, freshness and luxuriance.

While beautifying the hair "Danderine" is also toning and stimulating each single hair to grow thick, long and strong. Hair stops falling out and dandruff disappears. Get a bottle of "Danderine" at any drug or toilet counter and just see how healthy and youthful your hair appears after this delightful, refreshing dressing.

Featuring the Ensemble

Simple Silks and Woolens for Daytime Wear—Embroideries and Furs for Formal Occasions

—prevail in this so definitely established mode of the season. A one-piece gown with a matching coat that may be worn together or alone, offered in limitless varieties, and destined for every hour of the day—many of the night. As new interpretations continue to arrive, fashion no longer insists that both garments be of the same material, but simply that they be associated by some color note or fancy of design. Our collection gives delightful scope to individual taste and means, in models priced from

$89.75 to $350
(Third Floor.)

Subtle attention directed to the accessories that accompany the ensemble completes its charm. These sketched correctly complement the illustrated costume of black kasha duvetyn.

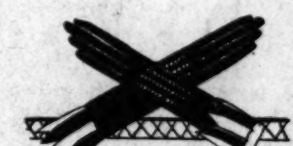

The Turban—sponsored by Reboux; of studied simplicity—black satin, swathed with Georgette, carelessly knotted.

(Third Floor.)

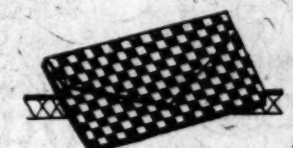

The Shoe—plain and infinitely chic, in patent leather, with tiny tailored bow. The "Countess," $14

(Main Floor.)

The Glove—is of softest black kid; the deep-petalled cuff, alternating black and white, may be worn up or down.

$5.50
(Main Floor.)

The Bag—alternates tiny moire and metallic squares in black and gold. In the approved envelope style—a most striking Paris import.

(Main Floor.)

Women's Shirts With Beau Brummel Collars

THE new English Broadcloth Shirt of tailored perfection is smartest with the two-in-one collar—Beau Brummel—whether the blouse be tucked or severely tailored of front.

Lines that are extremely long and narrow of hip bands characterize these blouses and accentuate the smartness of this particular model, some of which have trimly tailored pockets set in at either side. It is an admirable complement to the very tailored suit.

White English Broadcloth of Excellent Quality
All Sizes, 34 to 46

New—These Table Pieces in Filet-Pattern Lace

VERY wide, fitted borders of imitation filet lace woven in a new and very lovely design, are combined with linen centers of fine quality in these beautiful Pieces. The variety of Pieces in this design is such that any sort of set may be made—up—a luncheon set, a buffet set, or a complete outfit for dining room.

And Sale, in Progress This Week

The more than 100 demonstrations in our Second Radio Show and Sale are acquainting the people of St. Louis with the very latest achievements in this interesting science. Twenty-five sets, being shown here for the first time, are attracting special attention—and the Radio Laboratory is a popular place among enthusiasts. Of chief interest, however, are the unusual Radio values; the very best in St. Louis!

Program of Broadcasting

During the Radio Show and Sale, a program of classical and popular music is publicly broadcasted from our Radio Section, through the courtesy of Post-Dispatch, K S D.

SPECIAL ELECTION AFTER NOV. 4 FOR BRANDEGEE SEAT

Connecticut Governor Will Not Appoint Successor; Time Too Short to Make Nominations.

FUNERAL SERVICES IN TWO CITIES

After That in Washington Tomorrow Body Will Be Taken to New London Home for Burial.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.
HARTFORD, Conn., Oct. 15.—The successor to the seat in the United States Senate of Frank B. Brandegee, who ended his life in Washington yesterday, will not be appointed by Gov. Templeton, nor will a new Senator be elected at the presidential election, Nov. 4.

The Connecticut law of 1913, passed soon after the adoption of the seventeenth amendment concerning the popular election of United States Senators, provides that a special election must be held in the event of a vacancy. Another statutory provision, made to give the State Secretary time for printing ballots, requires nominations to be filed at least 15 days before an election. This would mean Friday of this week and it is conceded to be an impossibility to make nominations by that date. But the Democratic and Republican State conventions which named presidential electors have been adjourned sine die.

Connecticut has the convention system of nomination but delegates to the conventions are selected by the town primary caucus method. Each town and State senatorial district has about twice as many delegates as representatives in the general assembly.

View of Politicians.
Politicians, both Republican and Democratic, agree that the senatorial election cannot be held Nov. 4 and that a special election, with its necessary expense and labor incident to caucuses, conventions and election, is imperative.

J. Henry Roraback, national committeeman and chairman of the Republican State Committee, appears to be a contender for Brandegee's place. He has been the boss of the State for many years.

The present candidate for the governorship, Gov. Hiram Bigham of Yale, whose wife is of the family of Tiffany, New York, has been groomed to take Brandegee's place on the State ticket in 1925.

Congressman Schuyler Merritt of Stamford, who is running for re-election in the Fourth District, was to try for Senator George P. McLean's seat in 1928. These two are now immediate possibilities for the vacant Senate seat.

Senate Chaplain to Officiate at Brandegee Services.
By the Associated Press.
WASHINGTON, Oct. 15.—Worry over financial difficulties, involving real estate transactions, combined with ill health, is assigned by close friends as the cause for Senator Frank Brandegee of Connecticut ending his life here yesterday. After the body of the 69-year-old Senator had been found by his secretary, W. Don Lunday, and chauffeur, George Jones, with a tube attached to an open gas jet in one hand, Coroner J. Ramsey Nevitt issued a certificate of death, which, he said, resulted from suffocation accomplished by inhaling illuminating gas.

Senator Brandegee, a bachelor, lived alone except for two negro servants.

Brandegee was the senior member of the Senate from his State and in his 19 years of service there had taken an active part in the leadership of the Republican party. He was chairman of the judiciary committee and one of the leaders of the foreign relations committee.

His death, coupled with that of Senator Colt of Rhode Island, recently, cuts the Republican membership in the Senate to 49, a bare majority. It is expected, however, both seats will be filled before Congress meets again in December for the short term.

The body will be accompanied to New London by a delegation of Senators and Representatives. The Senators designated are: Senators McLean, Connecticut; Lodge, Massachusetts; Borah, Idaho; Moses, New Hampshire; Pepper, Pennsylvania; Wadsworth, New York; Gooding, Idaho; Hale, Maine; Davis, Vermont; Ball, Delaware; Overman, North Carolina; Swanson, Virginia; Gerry, Rhode Island; Broussard, Louisiana; Jones, New Mexico; and Shields, Tennessee. The House committee will include the entire Connecticut delegation.

END RHEUMATISM WITH RED PEPPER

When you are suffering with rheumatism so you can hardly get around just try Red Pepper Rub and you will have the quickest relief known.

Nothing has such concentrated, penetrating heat as red peppers. Instant relief. Just as soon as you apply Red Pepper Rub you feel the tingling heat. In three minutes it warms the sore spot through and through. Frees the blood circulation, breaks up the congestion—and the old rheumatism torture is gone.

Rowles Red Pepper Rub, made from red peppers, costs little at any drug store. Get a jar at once. Use it for lumbago, neuritis, backache, stiff neck, sore muscles, colds in chest. Almost instant relief awaits you. Be sure to get the genuine, with the name Rowles on each package.

BEWARE THE COUGH OR COLD THAT HANGS ON

Chronic coughs and persistent colds lead to serious lung trouble. You can stop them now with Creomulsion, an emulsified creosote that is pleasant to take. Creomulsion is a new medical discovery with twofold action: it soothes and heals the inflamed membranes and kills the germ.

Of all known drugs, creosote is recognized by the medical fraternity as the greatest healing agency for the treatment of chronic coughs and colds and other forms of throat and lung troubles. Creomulsion contains, in addition to creosote, other healing elements which soothe and heal the inflamed membranes and stop the irritation and inflammation, while the creosote goes on to the stomach, is absorbed into the blood, attacks the seat of the trouble and destroys the germs that lead to consumption.

Creomulsion is guaranteed satisfactory in the treatment of chronic coughs and colds, bronchial asthma, catarrhal bronchitis and other forms of throat and lung diseases, and is especially building up the system after colds or the flu. Money refunded if any cough or cold, no matter of how long standing, is not relieved after taking according to directions. Ask your druggist. Creomulsion Co., Atlanta, Ga.

IMPPLY? WELL, DON'T BE

People Notice It. Drive Them Off With Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets.

A pimply face will not embarrass you much longer if you get a package of Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets. The skin should begin to clear after you have taken the tablets a few nights.

Cleanse the blood, bowels and liver with Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets, the successful substitute for calomel; there's no sickness or pain after taking them.

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets do that which calomel does, and just as effectively, but their action is gentle and safe instead of severe and irritating.

No one who takes Olive Tablets is ever cured with a "dark brown taste," a bad breath, a dull, listless, "no good" feeling, constipation, torpid liver, bad disposition or similarly face.

Olive Tablets are a purely vegetable compound mixed with olive oil. You will know them by their olive color.

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets are the most effective remedy for skin troubles. Patients afflicted with liver and bowel constipation and Olive Tablets are the most effective remedy. Take one or two nightly for a week. See how much better you feel and look. 50c and $1.00.

STOP ITCHING SKIN

Zemo, the Clean, Antiseptic Liquid, Gives Prompt Relief
There is one safe, dependable treatment that relieves itching torments and that cleanses and soothes the skin. Soon after the first application of Zemo you will find that irritation, pimples, blackheads, zoster, blotches, ringworm and similar skin troubles will disappear.

Zemo is all that is needed, for it banishes most skin eruptions, makes the skin soft, smooth and healthy. It is a non-greasy, disappearing liquid that may be applied during the day. Trial bottle 35c, large size $1.00. Zemo Soap, antiseptic and healing, 25c.

MEXICO AND OIL MEN IN AGREEMENT

Announcement Made of Settlement of Long Dispute—President Must Ratify Terms.

By the Associated Press.
MEXICO CITY, Oct. 15.—"An agreement has been reached on the fundamental points in the long standing controversy between the oil companies and the Government," says a Treasury Department statement issued at the conclusion of the conferences between Government officials and a committee of the Association of Producers of Petroleum in Mexico, which has been here since Sept. 17. The committee, consisting of Chester Swain, counsel for the Standard Oil Co. of New Jersey; Avery Andrews, American representative of the Royal Dutch-Shell, and Dean Emery, counsel for the Pan-American Petroleum and Transport Co., left for New York last night without making public any announcement as to the outcome of their mission.

The official Mexican statement says: "The conferences between the Mexican Finance Minister, the Under-Secretary of Industry and Commerce, other officials, and the committee of oil men ended today. They were carried on in an atmosphere of frankness, cordiality and good will, and as the result of such favorable conditions an agreement has been reached on the fundamental points in the long standing controversy between the oil companies and the Government, harmonizing for mutual benefit the interests of the Royal Dutch-Shell, the rights of the Government, and establishing, according to the belief of both parties, a basis for the future development of the Mexican oil industry. The basis reached must naturally be submitted to the President of the republic and the oil companies."

It is learned authoritatively that the chief efforts of the committee were directed toward the following:

1. Modification of the present taxation for the purpose of encouraging development and exploration of new fields where the quantity and quality of the petroleum deposits are uncertain.

Second—A mutually agreeable understanding for protection, in proposed oil legislation to regulate Constitutional Article 27, of their rights to exploit petroleum deposits under lands acquired prior to the inception of the 1917 Constitution on which the owners or lessors had not previously undertaken or made contracts for petroleum exploration, or manifested intention to do so.

GIFTS OF $45,655 TO TUTTLE MEMORIAL FUND REPORTED
Subscriptions aggregating $45,655.25 to the Bishop Tuttle Memorial Fund were reported by team captains at a luncheon at Hotel Statler yesterday. Of this sum $30,000 consisted of special gifts, while the balance was the result of the first three days' campaigning.

Among the larger subscriptions is a gift of $2000 from the estate of Mrs. W. C. McBride, who died some months ago. She and her late husband were frequent contributors to Roman Catholic charities and Mrs. McBride gave the Cathedral High School. W. Frank Carter reported a "chance" gift of $1000 from Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Donaghy of Muskogee, Ok., who happened to be at Hotel Chase when the opening dinner of the campaign was held Friday.

Kiel to Address Business Men.
Mayor Kiel will be the guest of the South St. Louis Business Men's League at their meeting at 3:30 tonight at the Rubicon Hall, Grand avenue and Potomac street. Mayor Kiel will outline the administrative plans for South St. Louis.

CREATED A STRAW
MAN ON PAYROLL TO PAY OFF DEBTS

Former Timekeeper for Terminal Tells How Mythical Laborer Drew
$100 Salary for 18 Months.

James A. McKinney at 31 was floundering beneath an avalanche of unpaid bills—hospital bills, doctor bills, furniture bills, and such.
He was married and getting $106
a month. So he created one "John Vukovich, laborer," and placed his name on the payroll of the Terminal Railroad's Bremen avenue coaling station, where he was timekeeper.

For 18 months, from March, 1923, to September, 1924, the mythical Vukovich drew a salary of $100 a month, with a few dollars of overtime now and then. In all he was paid $1994.80. And McKinney freed himself of debts.

Arrested on Warrant.
McKinney, now 23 years old and separated from his wife, discussed his predicament in Central District today. He had been arrested at his mother's home, 4151 Botanical avenue, on a warrant charging embezzlement and grand larceny.
"When I married, in 1923, I thought we could get by on $105
a month," he said. "Everything we had was bought on time, and then my wife got sick and went to a hospital. The bills were too much for me, so I created 'John Vukovich' and put him on the payroll."
"I knew they would catch me sooner or later and I didn't care.
Last month I wrote the payroll as usual, putting 'John Vukovich' on it, knowing I would be on vacation when payday came around. And then I had another chance to escape. The fellow who substituted for me called me up at home and asked me to dry by and get the checks from the treasurer's office.
I could have got the checks and taken John's out, but I decided to let the whole thing smash."
"As a result, my substitute went after the checks himself. When he paid off there was no one to claim the Vukovich check. So he sent it back to the treasurer. Then they asked me about it and I told them the whole business."
McKinney pulled at a cigarette.
"I don't care what they do to me now," he said. "I'm disgusted with both James A. McKinney and John Vukovich."

CHILD'S KIDNAPER AND SLAYER
SENTENCED TO DIE IN CHAIR
Indianan, Who Buried Victim's Body in Sand Dune, Pleaded Insanity Due to "Moonshine."
B. GARY, Ind., Oct. 15.—Peter Vergolini, who kidnaped and murdered Anna Tomisch, 10 years old, and buried her body in a sand dune near here, 20 days ago, was sentenced to die in the electric chair by a jury at Crown Point late yesterday. The jury deliberated 13 minutes.

Vergolini lured the child into his automobile, took her to the dunes region, gagged and attacked her, killing the child and burying her body. Then he went to a moving picture show. When arrested he admitted the crime and led the authorities to the grave in the sand.

At the trial Vergolini pleaded not guilty and offered in defense that he was crazed by "moonshine."
The child's mother, Mrs. John Tomisch, entered the courtroom with a brick just prior to the verdict, but was removed by bailiffs.

U. S. HOSPITAL 99 IS READY
By the Associated Press.
EXCELSIOR SPRINGS, Mo., Oct. 15.—The Veterans' Bureau hospital here, designated as No. 99, will be officially opened today.

The institution is classified as a general hospital for all types of cases. The east wing, containing 50 beds, is ready for occupancy. Secretary of the Veterans' Bureau, Washington, has received notice from the Veterans' Bureau, Washington, that a staff of doctors and nurses would arrive for the opening. It was said the entire institution will be ready within a few weeks.

COACHES
The American Press.
COACHES. Oct. 15.—The American Press reported that the St. Louis City Council yesterday in a vote of 10 to 4, passed a resolution to retain office for the present.

After the resignation of the Council had been tendered, Premier of the Geneva conference, general conference on disarmament would be summoned for next summer. It was his opinion that it would be injurious for Parliament to undertake a solution of Sweden's defense at the present time. A majority of the Riksdag members, however, did not seem to share his view, the Premier added, and the question shortly, independent of Government collaboration.

Good Thing to Know about stopping a cold

At the first snuffle take a stiff dose of Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin, expel the congestion and avoid a cold

THE commonest afflictions of mankind are constipation and colds. Combined they indirectly cause the majority of untimely deaths. It is when constipated that you are most subject to colds, so keep the bowels open.

Sneezing is almost always the first warning of a cold. Don't wait; don't hope that it will go away of itself. Take a spoonful of Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin, cleansing the intestines of accumulated poisons, bundle up warmly and the cold will be gone by morning. Colds cannot "run their course" when stopped at the outset. That spoonful of Syrup Pepsin may stop it.

A good laxative is a necessity in the home. Since Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin is the largest selling liquid laxative in the world, over 10 million bottles being sold annually, the majority of families must prefer it.

And rightly so, for in the 30 years it has been on the market it has relieved thousands of people of those ailments it was designed to remedy.

Free Sample Bottle Coupon
There are people who very rightly prefer to try a thing before they buy it. Let them clip this coupon, pin their name and address to it, and send it to the Pepsin Syrup Co., 518 Washington Street, Monticello, Illinois, and a free sample bottle of Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin will be sent them postpaid by mail. Do not include postage. It is free.

DR. CALDWELL'S SYRUP PEPSIN
The Family Laxative

Mr. Walter Duminske, 797 Wheelock St., Detroit, Mich., are never without a bottle in their homes. They attribute their uniform good health to having it handy when needed. You will find it in every drug store. A dose costs about a cent.

There is no secret about the contents of Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin, and you will find it stated on the package, a vegetable compound of Egyptian pepsin with pepsin and pleasant aromatics, free from narcotics and opiates. It is just such a laxative as is ideally suited to families, safe for the young and effective for the old. Make up your mind to buy a bottle, and if for any reason whatever it does not come up to your expectations, your money will be refunded.

DRY AGENT NAMED IN PIRACY TRIAL

He Is Said to Have Worked With Bootleggers in New York.

By ALFRED M. MURRAY.
Copyright, 1934, by The Post and Dispatch Publishing Co., Inc. New York World and Sun-Dispatch.

EREST, Oct. 12.—Name begun to filter out during the trial of Max Jerome Phaff of New York for piracy before a French maritime court yesterday.

The first cracks in the rum ring fortress appeared as a result, and through them could be seen some of the activities of the ring which helps to keep New York supplied with liquor.

The court brought out that Phaff, accused of looting the French liquor carrier Mulhouse of her cargo on the high seas, was associated in the bootlegging business with one Brody. Brody in turn was alleged to have worked with a prohibition agent named Smith.

Another name mentioned was that of Frank Kelly, and still another, whose name is kept secret, was said to be the son-in-law of the "chief of the port of New York."

Kelly's headquarters were said to be a garage at No. 631 West 57th street, New York. Here it was said that Kelly, who long had been a trusted agent in the Morue Francoise, the company which owned the Mulhouse, had an interview with Legasse, a director of the company.

The investigation disclosed that Kelly offered to take all the liquor
the company could import to America if he could have exclusive control of it. Legasse turned him down, but after the piracy Kelly offered to go out to sea to search for the lost cargo. He went, but came back 24 hours later, confessing failure.

The evidence seems to show that Legasse's operations antagonized the rum ring, and Masquellier, a French merchant, who had 5000 cases of wine aboard the Mulhouse, was the victim of the feud.

It has developed that one Walter, previously mentioned in the case, boasted to Masquellier that he could get three revenue cutters and with them go to recapture at least part of the past cargo. He said it would cost $1800 for the cutters, cash in advance.

Knew of Ship Movements.
Masquellier testified that he did not think Phaff had the nerve to undertake the looting of the Mul-house on his own initiative. But was involved in the organization of the raid. It also developed that on July 4, three days before the Mul-house reached Halifax to report the piracy, Masquellier met a man in Forty-seventh street who said he had telephoned Halifax and the ship was expected in a few days.

This was considered important because it indicates the ring was informed of the Mulhouse's movements.

Phaff's counsel introduced documents showing that British liquor dealers, including the Bloch Brothers, distillers of "Old Smuggler" and Holt of Pinch Bottle fame, allowed Phaff credit up to $200,000.

This was intended to show he did not need to steal his liquor.

ROSENBLUTH CASE DISMISSED

Results From Pothier Acquittal of Cronkite Murder.

By the Associated Press.

TACOMA, Wash., Oct. 12.—
Robert Rosenbluth, former captain in the 21st Engineers, who was jointly charged with Roland Po-thier with the murder of Maj.
Alexander Cronkite at Camp
Lewis in 1914, is free of accusation in connection with the case.
The indictment against him was dismissed yesterday afternoon by Judge E. E. Cushman of the United States Court here on motion of James W. Osborne, special prosecutor.

Dismissal of the case was the outgrowth of the acquittal last week of Pothier. Judge Cushman also entered an order dismissing all witnesses from further attendance at court. Pothier has departed to join his family in Central Parks, R. I., funds for his trip having been provided by the local post of the American Legion.

The Hand that Never Fails

THE appeal of the helpless cannot go unanswered. The Sisters of St. Mary consecrate their lives to relieving pain and restoring hope to the afflicted. The Sisters have endured hardships and privation while nursing the sick poor. They have built hospitals to carry on their faithful work on a larger scale.

Today the Sisters of St. Mary conduct three great institutions—St. Mary's Infirmary, Mount St. Rose Sanatorium for Tuberculosis and the new $1,250,000 St. Mary's Hospital. They assumed a heavy debt to build St. Mary's Hospital.

This campaign is being conducted to lift this debt and endow St. Mary's Hospital, making it possible for the Sisters to further extend their work for charity. The endowment insurance plan for raising the fund has the approval of Archbishop John J. Glennon and business laymen.

The Sisters receive no monetary consideration for their labors. The extent of their splendid work for the sick poor depends upon the financial support given them by the citizens of St. Louis.

The Sisters never fail to respond to the call of the helpless, irrespective of creed or nationality. The people of St. Louis will not desert them in their appeal for funds to carry on this humanitarian service.

The INSURANCE PLAN

Five-year endowment policies are being issued in amounts of $500 or more by the Metropolitan Life Insurance Company to persons between the ages of 10 and 65 years, payable to the Sisters of St. Mary.

Each man or woman taking out a policy for $1000 or more is entitled to free hospital service at St. Mary's Infirmary for the rest of his or her life.

The premiums are payable annually, semi-annually or quarterly. At the end of five years the face value of the policy, with earned dividends, will be paid to the Sisters of St. Mary.

If the insured dies within five years, all payments cease and the face value of the policy will be paid to the Sisters of St. Mary at once.

Insurance is selected as the means by which this fund shall be raised. It is a practical, business-like method for endowing your hospitals.

The text of Senator La Follette's speech follows:

Fellow citizens, ladies and gentlemen:

So far as I can remember I stand before a St. Louis audience for the first time in my life. (Applause.) Therefore, I may well assume that you know me well by report, and so at the outset I beg of you to shut out from your mind any impression that has been made there by false report. (Applause.) But out insofar as you can, my personality. Hear me for my cause just as I present it to you here tonight. (Applause.) If I were on trial for my life the least that you could do for me here in giving me a hearing would be to try to direct yourselves of any prejudice that may have been lodged in your mind by misrepresentation, by falsehoods of every conceivable sort.

Let me say to you that I am to speak not only to you here tonight, but I am privileged through one of the great newspapers of this country and of the world to have a distribution of what I may say to you tonight through this wonderful modern invention. (Radio Station KSD, the Post-Dispatch.) Let me say further to you that I am scheduled to speak tomorrow night at Des Moines, Ia. This afternoon the word is brought to me that the Broadcasting station is under the control and operated by the Bankers' Life Insurance Co. and they have denied me the right accorded to others in the position to have the word to say to the American people in their vicinity broadcasted at that station which they control. (Cries of "Rotten, rotten.")

"Remember the Name."

Remember, remember the name of that association. It is called WHO, and WHO means the Bankers' Life Insurance Co. and I am inclined to think that I as a young man about 30 years ago insured my life in that company. (Laughter.) Thank the Lord, as I recall it, my insurance is fully paid up. (Laughter.) That I do not have to have anything more to do with that shoddy organization, but I leave it to those who come after me to collect the insurance on these days. (Laughter.) And I say to some people, not so many as you might think: I say to some people that the condition of some people that the condition of that insurance is going to be delayed for quite a while.

I am going to devote my address tonight to the discussion of a single subject. That word is satisfactory to you, perhaps, as though I attempted in a stammering sort of a way to cover superficially the entire field as I see it, but we Progressives are engaged in a campaign of education, of making ourselves understood notwithstanding misrepresentation. I wish this blasted thing (radio apparatus) were a little lower; I can't see all of your faces. (Laughter.) "We can't see you either."

We found that we can secure better results and better understanding of our program as the Progressive movement through concentrating our fire on a single topic each evening than we can by skimming the surface and discussing nothing at any one meeting thoroughly and completely.

Remember the Main Issue.

It is true that every speech I make centers on the main issue, that issue to which all others, in my opinion, are subordinate—the destruction of private monopolies and the control of our government by private monopoly. Not only the control of our government, but the control of our markets in which the people buy and in which they sell. Last night, I spoke in Kansas City and demonstrated, or I believe that the present condition of agriculture, which was the central theme of my discussion, is due to the enormous special privileges that have been created by the monopoly system through the control of government, and by the discrimination that has been practiced against agriculture. These discriminations must be removed, and agriculture, the basic industry of the United States, vital to our place in the economy of the world, must be restored to the footing to which it is entitled as the basic industry; and hence I stand firmly for the principle of agricultural equality, which under-

(Radio Station KSD, the Post-Dispatch.) Let me say further to you that I am scheduled to speak tomorrow night at Des Moines, Ia. This afternoon the word is brought to me that that broadcasting station is under the control and operated by the Bankers' Life Insurance Co., and they have invited me, they accorded to others in like position to have what I wish to say to the American people in their vicinity broadcasted over that station which they control. (Cries of "Rotten, rotten.")

"Remember the Name." Remember, remember the name of that association. It is called WHO in the parlance of the radio, and WHO means the Bankers' Life Insurance Co., and I am inclined to think that as a young man about 10 years ago I secured my life in that company (laughter). Thank the Lord, as I recollect it, my insurance is fully paid up (laughter). I am going to devote my address tonight to the discussion of a single subject. That won't be as satisfactory to you, perhaps, as though I attempted in a stammering sort of a way to cover superficially the entire field as I see it, but we Progressives are engaged in a campaign of education, of making ourselves understood notwithstanding misrepresentation. I wish this blasted thing (radio apparatus) were to do no more than I can see all of your faces. (Response, "We can't see you either.")

We found that we can secure better results and better understanding of our program as a new Progressive organization by concentrating our fire on a single topic each evening than we can by skimming the surface and discussing nothing at any one meeting thoroughly and completely.

Monopolies the Main Issue. It is true that every speech I make centers on the main issue, that issue to which all others, in my opinion, are subordinate—the destruction of private monopolies and the control of our government by private monopoly. Not only the control of our government, but the control of our markets in which the people buy and in which they sell. Last night, I spoke in Kansas City and demonstrated, as I believe, that the present condition of agriculture, which was the central theme of my discussion, is due to the enormous special privileges that have been created by the monopoly system through its control of government, and to the discrimination that has been practiced against agriculture. These discriminations have been removed, and agriculture, the basic industry of the United States, vital to our place in the economy of the world, must be restored to the footing in which it is entitled as the basic industry; and hence I stand firmly for the principle of agricultural equality, which under-packers and the milling combine generally are not permitted to steal the benefits that are designed for the farmer. (Applause.) They are always hanging around like vultures ready to pounce down upon any legislation for the farmer and eat it all up for their own fattening.

Thus the private monopoly system has often converted to its own benefit and profit legislation intended to profit labor and benefit labor and other large groups of American citizens. Why? Why? Do you know, men and women of St. Louis, that there is not a big business combination in America that has not got a lobby in Washington, with great offices maintained covering whole floors of big business blocks, who bring to bear upon the Congress all of the specious arguments that their trained experts can invent?

Tonight I am here in St. Louis to discuss one vitally important subject, our foreign relations. (Applause.) And to show you how this great monopoly system that controls the domestic life of the American people exercises its complete control in the foreign relations as well.

I say to you here that the time has come to return to fundamental American principles and traditions in the conduct of our foreign policy as well as our domestic policy. (Applause.) For more than 100 years this Government constantly pursued a policy which had been defined early in the last century by the greatest American statesmen. Its principle involved a wide departure from the conditions and practices of European diplomacy, which were based upon imperialism and court intrigue.

The American foreign policy was original and unique as the principles of representative government upon which our domestic policy was based; it was truly an American policy. (Applause.) Its fundamental doctrines were perhaps most tersely expressed by Thomas Jefferson—most Democrats have forgotten who he was (laughter)—in his first inaugural address, when he declared for peace, comity and the friendship of all nations and entangling alliances with none. (Applause.) They were endorsed by Washington, Franklin and other great statesmen. Only Alexander Hamilton and his followers, who desired not a republic but a monarchy in the United States, and an alliance with Great Britain, dared to oppose these policies. Jefferson, of Washington and Jefferson did not mean the isolation from friendly intercourse and co-operation with other nations. For 100 years the United States displayed a constant readiness to co-operate with other nations to promote the peaceful settlements of international disputes.

Other General Principles. Its reassertion will not imply any unreadiness to act with other nations in removing the causes of war. To this basic statement of American foreign policy should be added three other general principles which were enunciated during the early years of the first century of our Government.

1. Recognition of foreign Governments without intervention in their affairs. (Applause.) 2. The Monroe Doctrine of safeguarding the American continent from imperialism and exploitation. (Applause.) 3. Absolute neutrality toward foreign nations involved in war. (Prolonged applause.)

The doctrine of war neutrality was formulated and proclaimed under the administration of George Washington. England then had war with France and stopped our shipments of food to France. Thomas Jefferson, Washington's Secretary of State, in a letter to the United States Minister of Great Britain, stated the adoption of American neutrality.

I quote his words: "Reason and usage," said Jefferson, "have established that when two nations go to war, those who choose to live in peace retain their natural rights to pursue their agriculture, manufactures and other vocations, to carry the produce of their industry for exchange to all nations, belligerent or neutral as usual (prolonged applause); to go and come freely without injury or molestation, and, in short, that the war among others shall be for them as if it did not exist."

And the plain principle of international law announced by Washington and Jefferson, had it been followed, we would not have been called upon to declare war upon any belligerent nation in Europe (applause).

The fatal error came in the failure of President Wilson to treat the belligerent nations of Europe alike. The failure to respect the neutrality of both Germany and Great Britain.

Asked About Lusitania. I do not doubt that President Wilson was sincere when he declared for absolute neutrality. I know the influences which surrounded him, and which day after day and month after month brought the heaviest imaginable pressure to induce him to abandon his position of neutrality and throw the strength of the United States openly to the side of the allied governments.

VOICE FROM AUDIENCE: What about the Lusitania?

Well, just possess your soul in

the State Department. (Loud applause.)

There is a passage of Scripture that comes to me now: "Ye shall know the truth and the truth shall make you free." (Applause.) Many thousands and many millions of good people have lived misled by error and false publication. After the mining of the North Sea, Germany protested that the neutral shipments should not be shut out in crossing the North Sea and going to her territory, and said to the United States, "If that is to be done then you should withhold your shipments to English people in civil life." They waited from Nov. 5 to February, and the United States, convulsing all the time, silent to Germany's protest. Then Germany said, "If there is to be a zone that shuts out shipments to German civilians, we will create a like zone and shut out the shipments to English civilians." (Applause.) They did that, and Wilson said if you do that we will go to war with you. (Applause.) And they called it neutrality. (Laughter and applause.)

(Cry of "Talk about the rotten Veterans' Bureau.")

Of course, what do you expect from a Government that will deal that way? (Applause.)

"Talk about Wheeler." Now just let me say this, listen, if you expect me to take the cover off of all the corruption that has resulted from the Democratic and Republican administrations in one speech you are asking too much of me. (Loud applause.) All I want is a fair chance to present this foreign policy proposition. (Cry of "You are all right, Bob.")

The Second Path. The second path which we might have taken also led to peace. The other alternative open to us was to withdraw our commerce from both belligerents during the period of hostility and limit our trade to neutral nations. But I tell you, you cannot be neutral when two people or two nations are fighting, if you slip up behind one of them and give him a club or any other kind of a weapon which you don't give to the other. (Applause.)

And when you pretend to be neutral and are constantly backing one side and are unfriendly to the other, you are not neutral, you are acting as a consummate liar. (Applause.)

You might as well look facts in the face now, because history, handed down by an unimpeachable authority, is in the position in which we put ourselves. (Applause.)

We followed neither of these paths to peace. Instead, we took timidly and hesitantly at first and later more and more aggressively the path that led to war.

What was the first unneutral thing we did? We permitted Great Britain to mine the entire North Sea. What is the North Sea? A great expanse of the Atlantic Ocean. Our neutral commerce had as much right to cross that to any port, to feed men who are armed, but under international law we had as much right to send our ships across those waters to any port with carriers of food to feed any people, belligerent or not, as you have to ship your goods from one station to another in the United States. (Applause.) That is international law, and if anyone says or thinks to the contrary he is either indulging in subterfuge, or exhibiting a dense ignorance that should stop him from attempting a discussion of this subject. (Applause.)

I say we permitted Great Britain to mine that portion of the Atlantic called the North Sea. What do I mean by mining? I mean setting afloat, to go hither and yon, deadly contact mines, by which any vessel daring to enter that water is liable to be blown up and destroyed. Infinitely worse than a submarine.

Cites England's Order. England issued her order on the 2d of November, less than three months after war was declared, for the mining of the North Sea. That meant closing the North Sea to neutral commerce, where it has as much right to be as you have to exercise your right to any shipment in the State of Missouri. She banished, under penalty of being sunk, all neutral commerce from that territory to which it was entitled.

Let me tell you something: If you gentlemen happen to know it, carefully enough, you can find nowhere in the diplomatic records of the State Department of the American Government a line or word of protest against Great Britain's mining the North Sea and denying the commerce a chance to traverse it. (Applause.)

That was within three months after war was declared. Oh, think of it for a moment. Talk about neutrality. That was not neutrality, that was Great Britain. (Applause.) What followed? Three of our vessels with the lives of American sailors were destroyed by these British mines, and the bottom of the North Sea, and still not a word of protest from

You need not take my word for this. An Assistant Secretary of the Treasury during the war (O. T. Crosby), in an article in the Atlantic Monthly, says under his own signature—I quote from him—"I shall not soon forget the blunt declaration made to me 10 days before Sir Cecil Spring-Rice, the British Ambassador, took the first fruits of our effort," that is, took the first billions that we loaned, "by a member of the firm of J. P. Morgan & Co." This member of the Morgan firm said to Crosby, as he states in his article in the Atlantic Monthly, "I have scraped the bottom of the box, they owe us and our associate bankers $400,000,000, practically an overdraft, since we cannot sell the collateral remaining in our hands without making a panic on the New York Stock Market. You people of the Treasury must bear the whole burden, we can do no more."

That was the reason the Morgan, or one of the reasons—do you know who Morgan is now? By the grace of the King of England he is now "Sir John Pierpont Morgan." (Laughter and applause.) And he forced America into the World War.

Then came the treaty of Versailles. The treaty of Versailles, it was said, would end the war. It was the mother of all treaties. It gave Great Britain command of the seas and of Africa and of Asia, and the resources of the world as well. It made France a military state, an imperialist power. It violated the terms of the armistice, an armistice entered into in good faith by Germany at least, to which the victorious nations were in honor pledged. The treaty of Versailles is a treaty of shame and betrayal. (Applause.) By reasons of that the assurances of the American people to a defeated foe before the signing of the armistice, who was appointed by the President of the United States to represent the Government of the United States to secure real disarmament? Henry Cabot Lodge, Oscar Underwood—and who were the other two men?

Well, no others exactly like them. Their names don't come to me this moment. Men who have stood loud and long for the imperialist policy; men—oh, talk about the disarmament conference, the nations of the world have been building rival navies so rapidly that they had to have a breathing spell and they were glad, following the war, for a little cessation in building men-of-war in order that they might rehabilitate their finances. They are each of them now surreptitiously beginning to foster larger and larger navies. International bankers and oil companies and other exploiters of the world will profit from the four-power pact, which is the real thing the imperialists got out of the so-called disarmament conference.

The foreign policy of our State Department under the Secretary Hughes has been guided by private interests. In South America, the Near East, Mexico and Asia, the American Department of State has been an agency of American bankers, the one hand and Standard Oil and Sinclair Oil Co. on the other.

The Interior Department is not the only department of government that has betrayed the people's interests to enrich the oil syndicate. As Standard Oil has shaped our foreign policy during our present administration in matters relating to natural resources, so also Morgan has shaped policies in questions of international finance. Thus in foreign as in domestic affairs, the invisible government has become visible. The financial oligarchy controlled by Morgan and Standard Oil is imperialist in both fields. No longer is concealed its place in the White House. It still cracks its whip in command of Congress, and it is for this reason that Progressives declare that their first purpose is to break the power of this private monopoly system of our Government, not only over foreign policies, but over domestic policies as well.

Predicts Own Election. It is our plan and our pledge to return this Government that has been betrayed to the American people.

"Dumb Idol" and "Smart Boy."
To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch.

TOO great praise cannot be bestowed on your wonderful cartoon, "The Dumb Idol in the Temple of Privilege," and its accompanying article. If only all the voters of these United States could see and comprehend its meaning! That is the all too sad thing of it. These privileged robbers are safe because of lack of practical means to keep the entire body of people informed. Only ignorance, dense ignorance, is the smoke screen behind which they practice their nefarious craft.

And after all this is only one-half of the whole truth. "The Dumb Idol" is a passive creature—somnolent, complacent, glassy-eyed, a winking over-looker of wrong. There is on the other hand, an opposite type. This one I am going to call "The Smart Boy in the Temple of Privilege," one who is active, positive, affirmative, in his method of operation. He knows what, why, when and how to operate, so as to bring large results—profits—in his conscienceless principle (employers). This man wears the face of honesty, has the mask of sophistry sitting naturally on his countenance, and the oil of speech to lubricate the rough places with well-turned phrases of declamation. This "Smart Boy in the Temple" is hired by his crooked principals to advise, initiate and superintend their major moves on the chess board and steer their craft safely through the courts, and other constitutional tribunals which all too innocent people believe is the bulwark of their freedom! This man is heralded as the ideal constitutional lawyer of this period. And yet his reputation as such was earned in the service of trusts, combines and corporations whose interests are opposed to the inalienable interests of the masses of our common people. He is more dangerous to the common weal than the "Dumb Idol" because his dynamics is apt to destroy, whereas the "Dumb Idol" best can only hope to wear off our liberty.

"Delighted and Enthused."

To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch.

IT has been a long time since I have read a newspaper editorial or an article from a staff correspondent that appealed to me as much or interested me more than your editorial in the Post-Dispatch of Sunday, Oct. 12. I was so delighted and enthused when I read your editorial under the caption of "The Dumb Idol in the Temple of Privilege" that I could hardly restrain my feelings when I had finished. It was a masterful, comprehensive and truthful treatise on the faults and propensities of Mr. Coolidge; it showed up the diabolical and unscrupulous tactics of the Republican party for the past three years in no unimpeachable terms. Such an editorial ought to be read by every voter of a reflective mind in the United States. It would do good beyond measure. Every Democrat reads that editorial with a sense of satisfaction and appreciation of its merits as sufficiently appreciative of its merits as to send you an expression of appreciation for the same. Therefore, as one who ardently hopes for the success of J. W. Davis I wish I could thank you a thousand times for the good that your article will do and the infinite pleasure that it afforded me.

I wish further to state that the communication of Charles G. Ross, your Washington correspondent, delighted me more than I can tell. There is absolutely no answer to such a lucid, clear and honest disclosure of the political conduct of Mr. Coolidge.

In conclusion, without any desire to unduly flatter you, I sincerely feel that the Post-Dispatch and its editorial efforts will be of inestimable value in putting the Hon. John W. Davis over, for he is going over with a whoop.

Hit the "Dumb Idol" Again!

To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch.

THE writer desires to commend the wonderful fight your paper is making for principles and measures in the interest of the common people, at present best represented by the Democratic party.

Your editorials exposing George Harvey, political chameleon extraordinary, are sound and telling.

And to show that words alone shall not be all your thanks the writer has taken occasion to pass the word of your splendid fight for democracy along to others and has personally seen several subscriptions entered with your local representative here.

If we had a Post-Dispatch in every home, there would be no doubt of Missouri going 200,000 for the cause of Democracy and a Post-Dispatch in every large city—a paper like yours—would cause the party of privilege to hold less than the two "four spots" that Taft held in 1912.

Hit the "Dumb Idol" a few more like you have been putting out.

Yours truly,

Shelina, Mo.

THE COURTS AND LAWLESSNESS.

With the Missouri Bar Association about to meet at Jefferson City to discuss crime and criminal law procedure, Attorney-General Barrett's discussion of the subject, as reported in the Post-Dispatch, was timely. That the State today is at a great disadvantage in the prosecution of criminals, as he explained, cannot be controverted. But when he places the blame for this situation on the public and declares that only by an aroused public opinion can the evil conditions be remedied a demurrer may be filed.

It is an easy course to pursue, that of blaming the public. It is easy and safe. The public is not a sensitive personality quick to resent accusation. It is peculiarly deaf to censure. The public is a vague, impersonal mass. Individually, every one of us dissociates himself from the public when the public is reprimanded.

The truth is that public sentiment as a directing force in the details of government is limited to a small area. It functions capably in the village, small city and county and passably well in the larger municipalities, but it gropes in the unit of the state and is lost in the labyrinth of a nation like ours. It was in recognition of this truth that the framers of the Federal Constitution devised a representative or republican form of government rather than a democracy. And it is to our departure from that form of government, the breaking down of home rule within the states and the usurpation of the prerogatives of the states by the Federal Government that so many of our ills may be traced.

Local self-government has all but disappeared from the United States. Whether it can ever be restored, whether the clock can be turned back, is doubtful. But consider a recent flouting of the processes of justice which the Post-Dispatch commented on a few days ago. We refer to the case of a Kansas City man who was indicted more than two years ago on the charge of murder—his father being the victim—and who has not yet been even brought to trial. Does anybody believe that the public sentiment of Kansas City approves of such delay? Will Attorney-General Barrett or anyone else hold the people or the public opinion of Kansas City responsible for this outrageous contempt of the courts? Of course not. Neither will Mr. Barrett nor any other citizen of consequence assert that the remedy for this situation is to be found in arousing the public opinion of Kansas City. Moreover, the same thing could have occurred in any other city of Missouri, and any other city would be as helpless to correct it as Kansas City is.

Where, then, is the remedy? A partial and temporary remedy may be had by simplifying criminal court procedure so that the State will at least have an even chance with the criminal. But desirable and imperative as this simplification is, it is not a solution of law violation. So long as the present obsession obtains of turning to the Government for everything, and of hurrying on to Washington when the state government declines to intervene or its intervention proves disappointing—so long as this obsession obtains so long will the present unhappy conditions continue and steadily grow worse. We are putting our trust today, not in the discharge of our responsibilities as citizens, but in devices for evading those responsibilities. We are putting our trust, not in the righteousness of law, but in the magic and duress of laws. And the public is being ignorantly or willfully misled in this fatal adventure by the professional politicians.

The man who will stand in a legislative chamber today and defy organized clamor and vote against a popular proposal because it is unsound and unenforceable is a rare spirit. We have a few of them, but they are a pitiful minority, and, mostly, their reward is defamation and political destruction. So the cry of law-making goes on, with what result? With the result already obvious that the passage of unenforceable laws is bringing all law into disrepute. This, of course, is anarchy in the making.

We have pretty well come to the tyranny of laws, and are now on our way to the tyranny of lawlessness. And for this an abominable court procedure that has proved a haven for the professional criminal and has made a mockery of justice is, in no small measure, responsible. We have turned to mere laws largely because the agencies for enforcing the laws we had have failed.

A SENATOR'S SUICIDE.

For Senator Brandegee to have surrendered to the adversities of private life by committing suicide was an act totally at variance with his persistent policy of noncapitulation. Throughout his career the Connecticut Senator had fought everything through to a finish. He had fought grimly, cynically and hard. Many times it must have seemed to him (as in his struggle against equal suffrage) that he would be defeated for his assiduity. And he was an actual minority of one in the Senate when he drew up the round-robin against the League covenant, announcing that he would vote for that document "when hell froze over" and not before.

But if the act of suicide and surrender was an incongruous end to a fighting career the means of death chosen by the Senator was more in keeping with his nature. Mr. Brandegee did not yield to the impulse of a sudden shot or thrust or leap. He sat down on the floor of his bathroom after fastening a rubber tube on a gas jet and turning on the flow. He then put the tube in his mouth and held it there until he lost consciousness. He was as grimly intent on death as he had been in pursuing a legislative course on unpopular measures.

A product of old-school machine politics and generally an obstructionist, Senator Brandegee during a long career added nothing particularly constructive to the life of his race and time. But he was a fair if hard fighter. He was sincere and strong; and if he had not been honest he need probably not have turned to unsuccessful real estate speculation to make his fortune. His absence on the Republican side will be felt.

MR. LAZARUS' BOLT.

The reasons given by Sam Lazarus, capitalist and former Democratic organization man, for his bolt to Coolidge are that, unless Coolidge is elected, the Constitution will be endangered and the Government may fall into the hands of "radicals and wild-eyed theorists."

Both reasons are untenable. As La Follette has said, the only way to keep him from initiating amendments to the Constitution is to stick him in the White House. While he remains in the Senate he will initiate and espouse such amendments. As President he could not do so.

The Bryan bugaboo we have already treated in these columns. Gov. Bryan is not William Jennings Bryan. He is an individual in his own right and has a record of public service. He is not a "radical" or a "wild-eyed theorist," but an official whose most distinguishing feature is action. The Republicans of the House can prevent his ascent to the presidency by voting for Davis in case of a deadlock. If they share Mr. Lazarus' fright they unquestionably will do so.

Mr. Coolidge is considered "safe" by a class of business men because he is without conviction or spirit to move a step one way or another in meeting the problems of government. He takes his advice on finance, taxation and tariff from Mellon, the aluminum magnate. Hughes, the legalist, objectionist, non-co-operationist and defender of Newberry, is his foreign policy. Siemp, the patronage broker and link between the White House and Ned McLean, is his political strategist.

Corruption, tariff robbery, taxation reform for big business only, lack of influence over Congress, even over the Republican membership, general incapacity—what are these issues to those who look upon government as a mere appendage to business? It were well if all Democrats of such political ideals would bolt to the Republican party, where they belong. Then the issue between the money interest and the public interest could be clearly drawn. Then, if Coolidge should be elected, the present La Follette movement would be only the beginning of the popular revolt against reactionism.

SENATOR LA FOLLETTE APPEALS FOR VOTES.

Senator La Follette, in his speech at the Coliseum, changed from the stern and unbending reformer to the wily vote-getting politician.

To be sure, he said some true and pertinent things, applicable to the present situation, about the foreign policies of the Republican administration under Mr. Hughes, and the large part that oil and other interests have played in determining these policies. In the main, however, he harped on the war, abused Mr. Wilson, restirred the old passions, prejudices and resentments of Americans of foreign origin and of natural foreign sympathies.

The Senator, in short, made a special plea to German-Americans and other citizens of foreign birth or origin, on the ground that Mr. Wilson was wrong in taking us into war, and that he, Mr. La Follette, is not in sympathy with his war policies nor with anything that was done in connection with the war.

All that water has rolled under the bridge. We confront a new situation, domestic and foreign. It calls for wise and vigorous policies, not only to help Europe, including Germany, but to readjust our own policies in harmony with the welfare of mankind and our own welfare. For this problem Senator La Follette offers no effective remedy. He is an irreconcilable isolationist.

A PRINCE'S WEALTH.

"Carlyle," said the Prince of Wales to the manager of his farm in Western Canada, "this has been the happiest day of my life."

The burst of enthusiasm from England's future King was not inspired by wine, women, jazz, bacarrat, steeplechasing, polo, dancing, sightseeing or the plaudits of the multitude.

"I mean it," he affirmed. "This is the first time in my life I've felt like a real man. I've met all the neighbors and I like them. What's more, I think they like me, not because I'm a Prince but because I'm one of the gang."

When a neighbor this year failed to visit the Prince until he was about to leave the ranch he was greeted with: "You're a hell of a neighbor. Where've you been all this time?"

A Prince's commonplace is a poor man's wealth. A poor man's commonplace is a Prince's wealth. That is, if the Prince has at heart the right stuff. Sincere human relations taken as a matter of course in the common walks of life are the breath of life to royalty imprisoned in the gas-chambers of flattery and pretense.

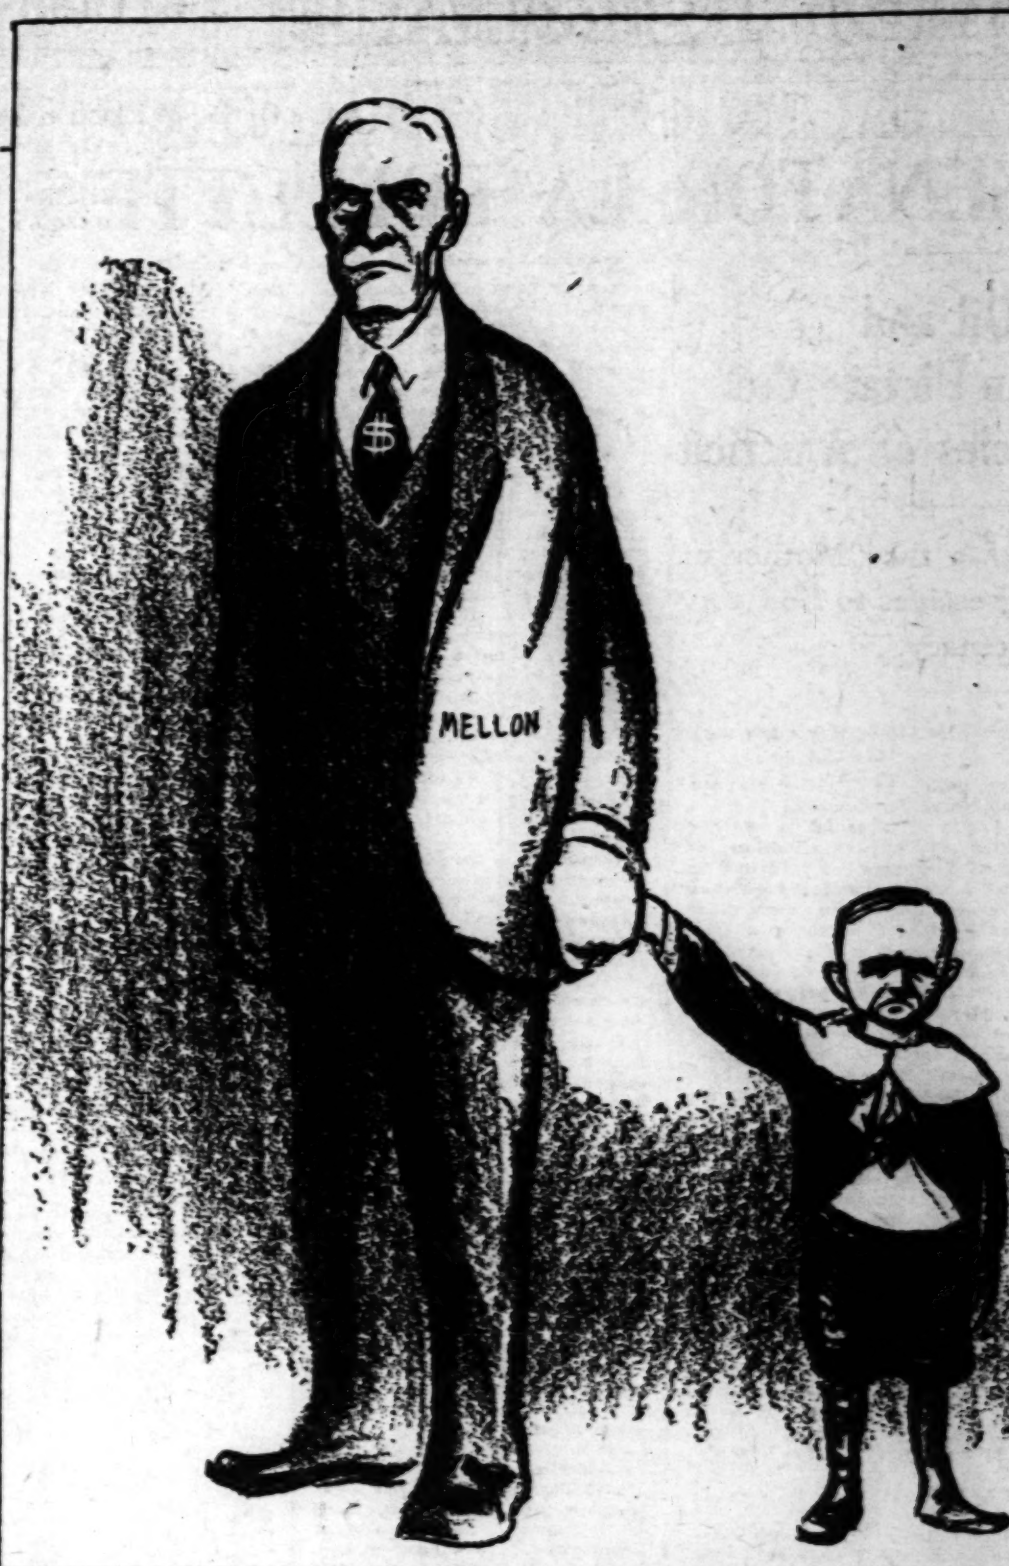

COOLIDGE AND CORRUPTION

Dr. Harry A. Garfield, president of Williams College, Republican and son of a former Republican President, in repudiating his party and declaring that he would vote for John W. Davis, the Democratic presidential candidate, not only condemns the Republican administration on account of misrule and corruption, but specifically condemns the inexcusable attitude of indifference on the part of the administration to the scandals which affected it. On this point he says:

It seems to me that there has been an inexcusable attitude of indifference on the part of the administration to the scandals which have affected it. Public office is indeed a public trust, and the party that proves itself indifferent ought no longer to be entrusted with the powers of government.

This indifference has been exhibited by every prominent party leader who is supporting the Coolidge-Dawes ticket. The most conspicuous evidence of it was not only President Coolidge's reluctance to dismiss members of his Cabinet involved in the scandals, but his miserable excuse offered in his speech to the Associated Press at New York, April 22, when he said: "BUT THE WONDER IS NOT THAT THIS (CORRUPTION) IS SO MUCH AND SO MANY (CORRUPTIONISTS); RATHER THAT IT IS SO LITTLE AND SO FEW."

What can be expected of a party whose leaders condone corruption and incompetence, and at the same time condemn those who expose it?

DRY DITTIES.

The Burial of Sir John Barleycorn.

Not a drop was left, nor a sob in our throat.

As his corse to Wayne Wheeler we hurried;

For we knew full well if 'twas brought to a vote

That our hero would hardly stay buried.

We buried him lightly at dead of night,

Nor in bond nor in case we wound him;

For the tasteless stuff we have's a fright,

And the near-beer we've been spurning.

No tell-tale label enclosed the best,

Nor in bond nor in case we wound him;

But he lay like a warrior taking his rest

With his loving friends around him.

Few and short were the prayers we said,

And we spoke not a word of sorrow;

But we steadfastly gazed on the face of the dead,

And we thirstily thought of the morrow.

We thought, as we hallowed his Volstead bed,

And smoothed down his Dry League pillow

Of the stuff that we'd have now to drink

And be 12 miles o'er the billow!

Lightly they'll talk of his spirit, no doubt,

And o'er his cold ashes upbraid him;

But little he'll reck if they let him peep out

From the grave where our Congress has laid him.

But half of our heavy task was done

When the heoch that is sold was mis-firing;

And we knew that those who had tried a bun

On the stuff were quickly expiring.

Slowly and sadly we laid him down—

Perhaps he had no true glory;

But men will have drink—a fact that's well known—

And heoch tells a much sadder story.

JOS. D. HEADE.

Senator La Follette has done something that no one else who has opposed the Republicans in a presidential campaign has ever done. He knew very well the Republicans would buy the election if they could, so he anticipated this maneuver by having a Senate investigating committee appointed in advance. This committee will convene during next week and it will investigate the very people the Senator has in mind when he caused it to be created.

He knows more about American politics than either we or the witnesses to be called by the committee care to admit.

It looks as if our manners might have been better than to have had the police parade when Senator La Follette was in the city; but we presume that it was not considered worth while to wait until some big Republican came, since the police never catch anybody making off with something that belongs to us all.

One feature of the presidential campaign is the way people turn out to the entertainment. They are either interested or amused, it is too early to tell which.

Now that Alton has restored the Plaza

Bird and thus admitted that her own self-expression has been feeble by comparison with that of the aborigines, it cannot be long until we make the same admission

here and restore the old St. Louis mound.

This structure stood on the hill at a point where Broadway crosses Mound street; and if we may believe an old painting that has been on exhibition within the last few months at a local gallery, it was a very pretentious and dominating structure. At any rate, it testified to a steeper and more idyllic time than our own, when all the people were sturdier and more honest and the Mayor was not wearing himself and everybody else out trying to be on both sides of it at once; when the river front was a delightful grove, with the smoke of Indian camp fires rising in soft misty tendrils instead of the profound and dispir-

Schumann's Music Is Merely Accompaniment to Antics and Chatter at the Odeon.

By RICHARD L. STOKES.

WITH gurgling grins and toothless guffaws, the simian figure of Vladimir du Champs—the Chopinace of the Odeon stage—sat with an attendant who turned the pages of his music and sang him the vigilante cry of "Beware!"

The pianist, who is 78 years old, and who had not been heard here more than a decade, undertook a program, consisting of Schumann's "Concerto in the Italian style," Liszt's "Pavane in C Minor," a Scherzo, a waltz, three Preludes, a Nocturne and the Scherzo in E major, all by Chopin; Schumann's "Piano Concerto," Liszt's "Elegiac Nocturne," "Année de Pelerinage," the Brahms Rhapsodie in B major, and a brace of extras.

Beyond a kind of fragile and delicate grace, a feeble fleetness of finger, and an occasional sweet-toned note, the recital was not of the slightest artistic significance. There was there not a single element during the entire evening that was scarcely a gradient of execution. The program took on the character of a Nebraska plain, with numerous errors, and a want of magic, the exhibition of an amateur.

An Evening of Monkeyshines.

But the public does not attend a musical recital for the sake of music. His box-office value lies in his antics as a monkeyshin. In this respect he is in his best, or rather, most miserable, form. His playing was converted into little more than an accompaniment to a running fire of chatter, ejaculations and leers. A successful scale convulsed him in grotesque, lizard-like that he clutched on a ladder who has just covered his equilibrium. At each cadence from minor to major, he burst into silent raptures, his head thrown back, his arms outstretched, his partner in the ribs. An audience of 1200, the first gathered under the auspices of the new Civic League, watched the spectacle with mixed emotions of amusement, pity and weariness. Striking out his tongue and flinging his arms abroad, the pianist seemed the applause that greeted his entrance. "I like it like that," he said. "That's correct. Very good. The piano is the best score of last year's season, with a few exceptions. The number are Misses Whitehead, Mary Howell Betts, Marjorie Alden Little, Jessie Carr, Elizabeth Crampton, Mildred North, Barbara Bay, Lois Engel, Elizabeth Dyer, Margaret Eakin, Mary Louise Cotter, Mary Elizabeth Stewart, Betty Corby, Alice Muckerman, Ruth Krause, Dorothy Bolin and Mary Carmen Ryan.

A debutante luncheon will be given today by Mrs. Emmett V. Thompson at the Hanley road, and her daughter, Miss Jane in honor of Miss Louise Powan of Pittsburg, who is visiting Miss Jane Whitehead. The guest list includes a number of the season, with a few exceptions. The number are Misses Whitehead, Mary Howell Betts, Marjorie Alden Little, Jessie Carr, Elizabeth Crampton, Mildred North, Barbara Bay, Lois Engel, Elizabeth Dyer, Margaret Eakin, Mary Louise Cotter, Mary Elizabeth Stewart, Betty Corby, Alice Muckerman, Ruth Krause, Dorothy Bolin and Mary Carmen Ryan.

Miss Muriel Clemens, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. James Ross Clemens of Webster Groves, entertained informally at bridge yesterday afternoon. The guests were Miss Bertha and Margaret Condie, Elise Harbaugh, Ella Marie Wilson, Thelma and Delphine Madill, Eloise Jones, Helena White, Louisa Moore, Lucy Jones, and Misses Harry Rutherford Stocker and Francis Warner.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles P. Whitbread and Miss Marion Whitbread, 62 Arundel place, have returned from Jefferson City, where they spent several days as guests of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Tweedie and family and attended the dedication of the new State Capitol.

Miss Eleanor Atkins, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James Atkins, 1138 W. termen avenue, will be hostess at a bridge luncheon Oct. 28, honoring Miss Marion Lane, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles E. Lane of Lindell boulevard, whose marriage to Myles Hasall will take place Nov. 12. There will be six tables for cards. Miss Berenice Baker of New York, who has been Miss Atkins' guest for a fortnight, will depart the latter part of the week for her home. Dr. Henry Suma gave a dinner party for Monday night at Hotel Chase, and Miss Atkins' sister, Mrs. Ollie E. Haupt, a buffet supper Sunday night. Friday, Miss Baker was honored at an informal tea, at which Mrs. E. M. Conner of Kingsborough boulevard was hostess.

"Myself and Von Buelow."

Roses were brought to him. "To make it complete," he said, "I will play the Second Impromptu, in F-sharp major. Hear the wind and the sea! Von Buelow! He says he can't play as I do. I play it presto. That was Chopin's intention. It is a nice improvisation. Now I change my seat!"—and he moved four inches to the left upon his stool—"no as not to spool my left hand. Now I melodeize with both hands. Here comes the presto business. There is a nuance by Von Buelow. It is clever. I am finishing now for me."

"I am old," he said, when the audience asked for more. "It is inevitable. Getting to be an old man is not my fault. Everybody gets every day older. Don't blame me. Then came his last group. After the Schumann "Nachtstueck" he was weary. "This is a new piano and I am not strong enough today. I play in New York like an orchestra. I am too tired. This and other places. The figure scuffed off the platform.

ANNOUNCES ENGAGEMENT

—Frank Moore Studio.

MISS ELEANOR ROTH.

THE engagement of Miss Roth, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. K. Roth of 5798 Pershing, and John O. Roth, was announced recently. Miss Roth is a graduate of Mary Institute and Washington University. Mr. Roth is a graduate of Washington University and is a member of the University Club.

Social Items

One of the largest parties on the social calendar will be a tea to be given this afternoon by Miss Alice Hagley and Mrs. Fred Forshey, daughters of Leo G. Hagley of Longfellow boulevard, in honor of their sister, Mrs. Clarence Kelly Canelo of San Jose, Cal., who, with her small daughter, is visiting here. About 300 guests are expected to call between 4 and 6 o'clock. The entire house will be decorated in the autumn colors, with clusters of chrysanthemums being the principal motif. A group of Mrs. Canelo's friends who will serve and assist, includes Misses, Harry Materne, Ed Sanders, Sylvester, Judge, Marc Gautier, Page Herford, James Maritz, and Misses Marion Thibbes, Eleanor von Brecht and Anna Marie Hurley.

A debutante luncheon will be given today by Mrs. Emmett V. Thompson at the Hanley road, and her daughter, Miss Jane in honor of Miss Louise Powan of Pittsburg, who is visiting Miss Jane Whitehead. The guest list includes a number of the season, with a few exceptions. CAROLYN MATTHEWS TO WED HIXON KINSELLA

Engagement Announcement at Bridge Luncheon—Wedding to Take Place in April

THE engagement of Miss Carolyn Matthews, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lewis S. Matthews, 427 Westgate avenue, to J. Hixon Kinsella, son of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas I. Kinsella, 6025 Pershing avenue, was announced today at a bridge luncheon given in Miss Matthews' honor by Mrs. S. S. Eagle, 6212 Waterman avenue.

The announcement was made in a unique manner. The main motif of the table decorations consisted of a polychrome vase done in the Chinese manner and made so as to hold the floral centerpiece of roses and lily of the valley. During the luncheon, the sides of the vase were raised, disclosing a church-like interior in which miniature bride and groom figures were standing before a miniature altar. The bride was dressed in a white gown, and the groom in a tuxedo. The vase was a masterpiece of art, and the luncheon was a most successful one.

Miss Matthews is a graduate of Mary Institute and also of Washington University. She was a maid in the Villed Froberg hall in 1922. Mr. Kinsella is a graduate of Washington University and is a member of the University Club.

The wedding will take place in April. The guests at the bridge luncheon were: Mrs. Matthews, David N. Burrus Jr., Alfred Brown, Clarence H. Howard Jr., Randolph S. Lyon, Richard Alt, C. Gordon Fennell, Lewis S. Matthews, Thomas I. Kinsella, and Misses Emma, F. Kinsella, Katherine Engel, Beatrice Morse, Jane Treadway, Mary Della Woods, Clair Rountree, Matilda Moulton, Ida McRoberts, Esther Moody, Elizabeth Bright and Elizabeth Lord.

A conspicuous debutante party will be an informal tea for Miss Helen Reburn, daughter of Mr. Amadeo Valle Reburn, to be given at 4 o'clock this afternoon by Mrs. George J. Claves of 4453 Maryland avenue. Miss Jessie Carr, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Peyton T. Carr; Miss Mary Howell Betts, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Frederick Betts; Miss Pamela Harrison, daughter of Mr. John W. Harrison, and Miss Dorothy Claggett, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William N. Claggett, four of the season's buds, will be the guests, besides the debutantes, will include several second year girls. Miss Reburn will make her debut informally this year.

Mr. Louis F. Lumaghi of 30 Windermer place, will be hostess Friday to the St. Louis alumnae of Monticello Seminary, who have been invited to meet Miss Harriet R. Condon, principal of the school. Monticello is approaching its nineteenth birthday, and the alumnae are planning a substantial gift to the school.

Dr. and Mrs. Anthony B. Day, whose marriage took place in Chicago Saturday, are registered at the Edgewater Beach Hotel for a few days. Following a honeymoon trip they will make their home in St. Louis. Mrs. Day was Miss Mary Caroline Wyles, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Russell Wyles of Chicago.

Mr. and Mrs. Leo McDonald of Kansas City, are visiting their daughter, Mrs. Lee Dorsett of 5083 Washington boulevard.

After several months' visit in St. Joseph, Mo., Miss Ida Lyasch has returned to Webster Groves, where she makes her home with her aunt, Mrs. M. F. Murphy.

Miss Frances Bradshaw, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Samuel Bradshaw, 5136 Washington boulevard, will be hostess tomorrow at the second of a series of bridge luncheons she is giving during the early season. Miss Tallulah Cudd of Atlanta, Ga., who is visiting Miss Bradshaw, is to be honor guest. Twelve young women have been invited.

MUSEUM HERE SOON TO GET EUROPEAN ART

Several Objects Selected by Director Sherer for Submission to Board.

Samuel L. Sherer, director of the City Art Museum, has returned from a three months' visit through Europe in the interest of the museum, his purpose being to study foreign galleries and museums and to obtain fine objects of art for the consideration of the board in view of purchase.

Twenty-seven cities were visited throughout England, France, Belgium, Holland, Germany and Italy, affording opportunity of intensive examination of the world's greatest masterpieces and of extensive contact with the most famous public and private collections of art objects in Europe.

Sherer's visits to scores of dealers' establishments in Europe have resulted in a number of objects being sent to the City Art Museum for the consideration of its Administrative Board. Of the objects selected, the names of the best of them are on account of possibility of sale elsewhere meanwhile.

Some of the specimens selected. However, a small collection of Italian Renaissance bronzes of the fifteenth and early sixteenth centuries, a small group of Egyptian antiquities, a group of Limoges enamels to supplement our splendid collection of seven already formed, a small collection of Greek and Roman antiquities, a number of pieces of English silver of the seventeenth and eighteenth centuries, numerous decorative objects from England, Germany, France and Italy, and some French and Dutch seventeenth century paintings are among the objects selected for the museum's consideration. Virtually all of these objects are from famous collections recently dispersed and they have passed through the hands of several eminent collectors during the past century.

Consideration of the objects which do arrive will occupy several months' time, and the purchase of those receiving favorable decision will take place during the coming year.

One of the most pleasant of Sherer's experiences abroad was his visit to Frank Brangwyn, the artist whose magnificent decorations are placed in the dome of the Missouri Capitol at Jefferson City. At the time of Sherer's visit to London the famous exhibition of Brangwyn's work was in progress. Paintings, water colors and drawings had been borrowed from their owners, this difficult feat having been accomplished by Brangwyn's agent, and formed an almost overwhelming, awe-inspiring exhibition held in huge old London house. Sherer called upon Brangwyn at his quiet, old house in Hammer-smith, surrounded by a high wall and plenty of garden, and found Brangwyn retiring in matters of personal prominence or display, but forceful in matters concerning art. Sherer pronounced Brangwyn's exhibition the most astounding showing of one man's work he has ever seen.

Operating Policies Studied.

A study of the operating policies of the foreign museums revealed a number of pronounced differences between their methods and those exercised in American art institutions. With the exception of the Louvre, the recognized greatest museum in the world, a separation of the various phases of art is made. In London, the National Gallery contains paintings exclusively, the South Kensington Museum housing the works in industrial art, the British Museum containing antiquities and the National Portrait Gallery having only portraits. The Louvre draws no hard and fast line between the various phases of art, differentiating them and placing them into divisions, but correlating them as do American museums.

Greater satisfaction and pride in the City Art Museum than Sherer has ever before felt, is now experienced by him after his inspection of the European institutions. It is not possible, of course, for a museum to acquire the world's greatest masterpieces of the world which make the European museum.

CANVASS AT OVERLAND PARK SHOWS LEGAL REGISTRATION

Every One of 1704 Who Registered Are Said to Be Legal Voters.

A canvass of the three registration precincts of Overland Park has disclosed that every one of the 1704 persons registering at the last registration are legal voters of Overland Park. E. D. Briley, one of the clerks making the canvass, said today.

The canvass was made after Chairman Albert Autenreith of the Republican County Committee charged that heavy padding of the St. Louis County registration books had occurred during the three-day general registration period. Reference to Overland Park was made by Autenreith, according to Briley, who attributed Autenreith's charge against Overland Park to the large increase in legal voters since the last presidential election, when 126 votes were cast in Overland Park.

5513 STUDENTS AT W. U.
Gain of 13.7 Per Cent Over Enrollment of Last Year.

The registration at Washington University has been announced by the Chancellor's office as 5513, a gain of 13.7 per cent over last year, when the total number enrolled was 4849.

Practically half of these students are in the degree-conferring departments. The Robert S. Brookings School of Economics and Government has 30 more students enrolled this year than last.

seems so profound. But a high standard of excellence in accessible objects may be reached and maintained. This is the policy upon which the City Art Museum is operated and accounts largely for the rating of fourth in importance in the United States that this museum now takes.

Certain portions of the City Art Museum's collections are quite famous and it is very possible to point out objects here that any European museum would be more than glad to possess. Our collection of Greek and Etruscan jewelry, while composed of but 12 objects, is exceedingly fine and surpassed not in quality but in quantity only by the larger and richer museums. Some of our paintings by old masters would easily take important places in excellence and rarity among any of the finest collections.

Sure Way to Get Rid of Blackheads

There is one simple, safe and sure way that never fails to get rid of blackheads, that is to dissolve them. To do this, get two ounces of calomel powder from any drug store—sprinkle a little on a hot, wet cloth—rub over the blackheads briskly—wash the parts and you will be surprised how the blackheads have disappeared. Big blackheads, little blackheads, no matter where they are, simply dissolve and disappear. Blackheads that form in the pores of the skin, the calomel powder and the water dissolve the blackheads so they were right out, leaving the pores free and clean and in their natural condition.

THE CALIFORNIA DECISION.
The Worcester Telegram.
The State Supreme Court of California, in barring from the ballot the 13 presidential electors pledged to the La Follette elector, holds the opinion that a presidential elector is merely the agent of a party, operating solely through a party convention as a sort of messenger. Therefore does not believe that a presidential elector can be placed upon the ballot. The La Follette electors in California, for La Follette is naturally aroused at the decision, especially as it was the "one-man" type, the vote being cast by three. Whatever may be said for or against the decision, it makes one thing plain, clear, and that is the need of a new system of electing the President. The needs to be definitely established, are to continue to choose Presidents by a system of direct voting, we cease using a system which nominates and according to the Constitution is a system of indirect voting. Until we decide on a new system, there will be no change in the system which, as far as results are concerned, is a system of direct voting, we cease using a system which nominates and according to the Constitution is a system of indirect voting. Until we decide on a new system, there will be no change in the system which, as far as results are concerned, is a system of direct voting, we cease using a system which nominates and according to the Constitution is a system of indirect voting. Continued From Page 17.

people back into their hands again, and when I am elected President of the United States (prolonged applause—as I shall be on the Fourth day of November—"atta boy"—from the audience). Let me tell you that there is a workingman of a vote of more millions than voted in the last election that is coming to the polls in this election. They have stayed away from the polls in greater and greater numbers in every election, since this monopoly power began to exert itself and its influence in the control of our Government. Disgraced, they have stayed away. Now, they are the breaking of the new day. They will be at the polls on Nov. 4, and they will choose the progressives rather than to have four years of administration that can be given by either of these two old corrupt political organizations (prolonged applause and some sounds of disapproval—several cries of "Put him out"). It will be my first task (cries of "put him out" and "boo"—also "throw him out"—"cluck, cluck, cluck").

The basic step is to restore government to the people. Then we have a program of cleaning house, of turning out the people who have corrupted this Government under both administrations, a program that includes justice to all classes, to the farmer, to the worker, to the independent merchant and manufacturer, and all those unprivileged millions who have been politically voiceless during the last 10 years, and who have suffered most during the war and the period since the war. And I say to you, when I am President (cries of "Ha"—prolonged applause)—there will be no more Doherty or Palmer injunctions against labor (prolonged applause) and the United States army will not be used as strike breakers. (Applause).

"Propose to End War." A word more: The Progressives propose to end war (applause); and you cannot end it in any other way than we propose to end it. You may talk about leagues; you may talk about World Courts; but any League or World Court set up by imperialistic governments means more war. We propose to end war by ending the causes that produce war (prolonged applause).

In ending these causes of foreign war, we will in large measure re-establish our liberties at home. ("Give us beer" from audience). We will end secret diplomacy. Secret diplomacy in effect makes it possible for our State Department to involve us in commitments and obligations, in acts of aggression and in entanglements which involve the honor of the nation. Under secret diplomacy war becomes an accomplished fact before the nation is aware of even its possibility.

Should war be forced upon us, we would end all profit from war (prolonged applause). Sacrifice at the front and in the home would be paralleled with equal sacrifice in the banking of the, in the counting room, and in the munitions plant. We would enlist wealth if we had to enlist men. (Prolonged applause.) If war is forced upon us, we shall leave no heritage of debt upon subsequent generations. We will tax wealth so that we pay the expenses of war day by day, as long as the war lasts. (Prolonged applause.)

You think that a preposterous proposition? Let me tell you that 150 of the leading economists of the United States, in the leading colleges and universities, presented their position when we entered upon the World War, which I drove home as a member of the Finance Committee in the United States Senate, providing for the financing of the war. Their proposition was that taxes should be levied upon wealth high enough to avoid issuance of bonds, and in that way avoid the inflation of the cost of living, and in that way leave a job upon the people of the country to be paid for generation after generation. The backing of the very best economic understanding in America supports the proposition that war should be paid for day by day, as we go. Wealth always makes profit out of war, but it always manages to so conduct the finances of war as to leave the great burden of the debt upon the mass of the people, to be paid for in higher cost of living, generation after generation.

"Taxes on Hunger of Poor." In God's name, stop a minute and think of it! Do you happen to know that the Civil War, which ended in '65 had not been paid for, into a million dollars, when we entered the World War? How long do you think it will take you and your children to pay for this war in which we engaged? Our taxes will not be taxes on the hunger of the poor, on necessities and comforts, on recreations and amusements. Our taxes will be levied on unproductive dividends, on incomes, inheritances, and excess profits. This, too, will discourage war (applause).

We will not annex the territory of any other nation. We will not invade the territory of our neighbors. We will not impair their sovereignty by a display of armed force. We will not menace the integrity of Mexico. We will withdraw our Marines from Haiti, Santo Domingo and from the Central American States. We will not join in the dismemberment of China, or seek to force China or any other dependent people to permit us to share with other powers in their dispossession.

We will give self government to the Philippines, thus fulfilling the solemn promises of our Congress. In place of conquest, we will help and encourage these peoples to establish self-government, to the end that they may enjoy the same liberties that we seek for ourselves at home (prolonged applause). And then we will provide for a referendum on war, except in case of armed invasion—an emergency which I cannot conceive. We will make no more wars by the act of the executive department alone. We will make no more wars by dragging the Senate and the House of Representatives into war. We will make no war until those who are to offer their lives and who are to make the sacrifices vote their approval of war (prolonged applause).

"Would Not Require Draft." Such a war, if one unfortunately should come, would not require the subversion of the Constitution, the trampling underfoot of civil liberties, and the denial of the right of free opinion. Such a war, if it should come, would not require a draft. You would find the American people, in the event of a war being forced upon us, willing to volunteer to take care of that war. (Prolonged applause.)

I will just tell you: I don't know whether you have a force here which gives to every American citizen a right to a hearing, but if I had time, I would go up there and put an end to that business (referring to commotion in balcony in rear of speaker—cries from audience "Put them out" commotion continued). Hear me! Hear me! You can't do it with your mouth. Go up there quietly and attend to them, if you have got the nerve to do it. Don't interrupt me with your shouting. (More shouts, "Put them out.")

We will seek the whole-hearted co-operation of the nations of the world to reduce armaments to a defensive basis (cries from audience, "They have got him"—"Hit him on the head"—much excitement in balcony back of speaker—sighs and so forth—cry from audience, "Go ahead, Bob." Interruption of several minutes in speech).

This audience that I see before me, excepting just a handful of hoodlums in the gallery, is as fine an audience as I ever addressed (prolonged applause). Cry from someone in audience, "Go ahead and talk, Bob." "End Financial Imperialism." We will end financial imperialism. You elect the Progressive ticket, and we will divorce the State Department from imperialistic financial agencies. We will repudiate the doctrine that the American flag shall follow the investor (applause). American youth—your sons and my sons—if we have a Progressive government, shall not be sent to foreign countries to take care of the profits of J. P. Morgan and Standard Oil. (Applause). They shall no longer be sent to the tropics, to Mexico, to Santo Domingo or Haiti. They shall not be used in Europe or in other continents as a collection agency for private debts. (Applause).

This is a constructive policy. It is a policy of peace on earth and good will to all mankind; a policy that would mobilize the world for peace, that would free the world from conquests and release its workers for the production of wealth and for its enjoyment, unpoisoned by fear.

Ladies and gentlemen, I leave you now. Let me say to you that but for this little disturbance from that tier up there (indicating rear balcony)—except for that, I have never addressed a more intelligent, a more responsive audience than I see before me now (prolonged applause). It will be my privilege to return here in another campaign. I have put my hand to the plow in this affair. I believe in the goodness of God, and that I shall be spared to go on to the conclusion of the work which I have undertaken. I shall return in 1928, asking you for re-election (prolonged applause).

SECOND FOREMAN OF COUNTY GRAND JURY WITHIN A WEEK

George Baumhoff Named to Succeed John K. Broderick, Who Supplanted Richard Haasall.

For the second time within a week the grand jury of St. Louis County, which has been instructed by Judge Wurdeman to investigate the official conduct of Adam Henry Jones, Prosecuting Attorney, was left without a head today by the resignation of its foreman, John K. Broderick of Kirkwood, who was appointed foreman Oct. 8, following the resignation of Richard Haasall of Shrewsbury, resigned today, giving pressure of business as the reason. Judge Wurdeman appointed in his place George Baumhoff of Bonhomme Township.

Haasall's resignation was due to the publication of the fact that he was a Deputy Sheriff. In resigning he stated that he had ceased to be a Deputy Sheriff but thought it best to withdraw from the grand jury to save the other members from criticism. Judge Wurdeman, in accepting Broderick's resignation, said he knew it was proffered in good faith, as in addition to pressure of business Broderick was in ill health.

Baumhoff formerly was an active member of the Clean Election League of St. Louis County, but resigned some time ago.

JUDGE WALKER SERIOUSLY ILL

Supreme Court Justice Is Threatened With Uremic Poisoning.

Judge Robert F. Walker of the Missouri Supreme Court is at Missouri Baptist Sanitarium in a critical condition, threatened with uremic poisoning. He was brought to the hospital last night from his home in Jefferson City, where yesterday he suffered severe chills caused by the uremic disturbance.

One of his physicians said today the condition of Judge Walker showed slight improvement this morning, but still described his condition as "critical."

Other Women's Teeth

are whiter, clear, glistening—why not yours?

Remove the dingy film that's clouding them—you'll be surprised that your own teeth are as pretty as anyone's—make this unique test.

THAT most of us have pretty teeth without ever revealing them, is the remarkable assertion of many high dental authorities.

This is why:

Run your tongue across your teeth, and you will feel a film. A film which you cannot see with your eye, but which absorbs discolorations and hides the natural color of your teeth.

Remove it and your teeth take on a new beauty. Maybe you have really beautiful teeth without realizing it.

Film is charged too with tooth troubles. It clings to teeth, gets into crevices and stays. Corns breed in it. And they, with tartar, are the chief cause of pyorrhea.

So, besides loss of tooth beauty, film is a serious danger to healthy teeth. You must remove and constantly combat it. It is ever present, ever forming.

Old-time dentifrices were unable to combat it successfully. So most people had unattractive teeth no matter how often they cleaned them. And tooth troubles were a serious problem.

Now modern science has discovered a new way. A new-type tooth paste called Pepsodent that acts to curdle film, then harmlessly to remove it. No soap or chalk, no harsh grit dangerous to enamel.

Mail the coupon for a 10-day tube free. Or, buy a full size tube at any drug store today. See what beauty lies beneath the film on your teeth.

ROMAN 'PONZI' AND HER MOTHER HELD FOR FRAUD

Life of Chicago Pickle Factory Worker and Her Parent Got Thousands by Giving Notes for Millions

RESTED WHEN HUSBAND COMPLAINS

Became Angry When Alleged Owners of Vast Oil Fields Left Him to Attend World Series.

Chicago, Oct. 13.—Two little women in dowdy dresses, arrested yesterday after they had persuaded Joe Smock, a laborer, to extend their stay for $10,000,000, which he held in trust for them, were today for alleged oil stock totaling thousands of dollars.

Smock, who was satisfied, for the women had agreed to pay him $10,000,000 next year if he would grant them the extension. The women are Mrs. Marie Kummer, 33 years old, and her mother, Mrs. Anna Wachter, 55.

The women are Mrs. Marie Kummer, who works in a pickle factory, caused their arrest. She was angry because the women had left him at home with his two daughters while they went to Washington, as they said, to see the Johnsons pitching the world's series and to shake hands with the president. His final grievance led him to complain to the police about his wife and mother-in-law, who was only the climax of a long list of complaints.

Talked of Vast Oil Fields. The mammoth oil fields, the two women claim to hold, he explained, were at the bottom of the Gulf of Mexico. Ever since Mary was 16 she and her mother had been selling them in their great oil fields to their friends, and in return for insignificant sums as $200 as they had given long time ago for $5,000,000, $10,000,000, or $100,000.

The oil fields, Kummer believed, were in Texas or California or somewhere else. He said he believed because Mary and her mother would see them sometimes. Then he came back with such tales of wealth that John would rush and get all his friends, who would come to him to invest. His friend, who didn't believe, was taken to California, and there miles of oil wells Mary said she and her mother—well, they were so rich, the two women, she now boasted $100,000,000 in five years with $5,000.

Fired of Keeping the Kids. John Kummer assured police that the oil wells were real because he had heard Mary tell them so often, but he was tired of being left at home with the kids and working in a pickle factory, too.

Up to his wife and mother-in-law, they went to Seattle to see the lights, went to Hawaii to visit, and to New York to see the show. They went to Washington to see the world series—that was too much for him.

When the police arrived just as Mary was leaving, they arrested her and her mother.

They were taken to the police station and held there until their lawyers could be found.

MONDELL SEES DAVIS AS "TAIL-ENDER" IN RACE

Former Congressman Tells Ohio Republicans Democrats Have Lost Conservative Support.

By the Associated Press.
MARION, O., Oct. 15.—Former Congressman Frank Mondell of Wyoming, opening the Republican campaign here last night declared that "John W. Davis, Democratic candidate for the presidency, has apparently become reconciled to his position as a tail-ender in the presidential campaign race."

"The Democratic nominee started out representing himself to be a conservative man, but he has become as reckless and illogical in his statements and attitude as La Follette, with the result that those who are led by reckless and illogical statements are flocking to La Follette rather than to Davis," Mondell said. The speaker predicted the election of President Coolidge by a good majority, declaring that "reasonable and thinking Democrats, having lost faith in their candidate, are flocking to Coolidge and the Republican candidates."

"Not only will the voters elect Coolidge but he will have the support of a Republican congress," Mondell concluded.

the money awards there will be many certificates of merit, cups and other trophies.

Southern Politician Ends Life.
By the Associated Press.
JACKSON, Miss., Oct. 15.—William F. Cummings, 59 years old, registrar of the United States land office for Mississippi during the two terms of President Wilson, and prominent in political affairs of the State for more than 30 years, shot and killed himself at his home here yesterday. He had been ill for some time.

Deputy Held for Killing.
TEXARKANA, Ark., Oct. 15.— Robert Mills, Deputy Sheriff, was placed in the county jail here late yesterday in connection with the slaying of Will Barber, 38 years old, brother of Sheriff Lash Barber.
Barber was killed at Biglow Mills, near here earlier in the day. The shooting is alleged to have been the aftermath of a quarrel between the two men over some hogs.

ILL, SHE GAVE LIFE TO AID SUFFERERS

Helen Smith Woodruff, Author and Playwright, Sought to Cheer Unfortunate.

By Leased Wire From the New York Bureau of the Post-Dispatch.
NEW YORK, Oct. 15.—Mrs.
Helen Smith Woodruff, writer of books and plays, lost her fight for health yesterday. While in delirium she eluded her nurse, and, running to the second-story window of her home, fell to the concrete pavement of a rear alleyway.
She died two hours later.

Lewis B. Woodruff, her husband, a retired lawyer and writer on scientific subjects, disclosed the fight that had been made by his wife against the illness that pursued her from childhood.

Wedded 15 years ago on what was thought to be her deathbed, she suffered an attack of scarlet fever and spinal meningitis 13 years ago which deprived her of her vision for six months.

Gave $50,000 to Blind.
The loneliness and isolation of this experience caused her to become interested in The Lighthouse, conducted by the New York Association for the Blind. She wrote a book, "The Lady of the Light-house," which was dramatized. The royalties, more than $50,000, was devoted to care of blind. She was the author of five other books and several plays, most of which dealt with problems of health such as she herself had combated.

Last fall she became ill with an alliment thought to be tuberculosis of the bone. This was followed by a nervous breakdown last July.
Since then she had been confined to her bed.

At 7 o'clock yesterday morning the nurse left the sick room for a few minutes. When she returned she found the bed empty. Running to the window, she saw Mrs. Woodruff's body on the pavement.

Youth Slattered by Illness.
Mrs. Woodruff was born in Selma, Ala., 36 years ago. The family moved when she was young to Anniston, Ala., and from there to Birmingham.

A blonde of delicate features, her beauty was accentuated by her ill health.

"It seemed to me," she said in a printed interview a few years ago, "that the youth I never really had, was spent either on the operating table or in a recuperating room."

While on a visit to New York she said she met Woodruff, then still in practice. They became engaged, but the day set for the wedding found her desperately ill in her home at Birmingham.

"They said she was dying, but we decided to have the marriage performed anyway," said Woodruff today.

Mrs. Woodruff built up a philosophy of optimism after her recovery, which helped sustain her and which she expounded in her books and interviews.

Aided Children's Hospital.
She wrote a book, "Mr. Dr.
Man," which was a story of cheer for the ailing, and the proceeds went to the City of Birmingham, Ala., for the building of a children's hospital.

She played a hurdy-gurdy during the World War to raise money needed for the knitting of socks for soldiers.

In 1918, one of her plays, "Hurrah for the Girls," was produced in New York, and the returns went to the Committee for Devastated France. "Kitty, Kitty, Kitty" and
"By Love's Speedometer" were produced in 1919, and she collaborated in the libretto, "Just Because," and produced, "Cashes and Kisses."
She is survived by her husband.

ADVERTISEMENT Famous Old Recipe for Cough Syrup

Easy and Cheaply Made at Home,
But It Beats Them All for Quick Results.

Thousands of housewives have found that they can save two-thirds of the money usually spent for cough preparations, by using this well-known old recipe for making cough syrup. It is simple and cheap but it has no equal for prompt results. It takes right hold of a cough and gives immediate relief, usually stopping an ordinary cough in 24 hours or less.

Get 2½ ounces of Pinex from any druggist, pour it into a pint bottle, and add plain granulated sugar syrup to make a full pint. If you prefer, use clarified molasses, honey, or corn syrup, instead of sugar syrup. Either way, it tastes good, keeps perfectly, and lasts a family a long time.

It's truly astonishing how quickly it acts, penetrating through every air passage of the throat and lungs
—loosens and raises the phlegm, soothes and heals the membrane,
and gradually but surely the annoying throat tickle and dreaded cough disappear entirely. Nothing better for bronchitis, spasmodic croup, hoarseness or bronchial asthma.

Pinex is a special and highly concentrated compound of genuine Norway pine extract known the world over for its healing effect on membranes.

Avoid disappointment by asking your druggist for "2½ ounces of Pinex" with full directions, and don't accept anything else. Guaranteed to give absolute satisfaction or money promptly refunded. The

Will Play-time Come Again?

Spring - TWO BOYS playing marbles... both worth a million dollars to fond parents, who see them as presidential possibilities... but the boys see themselves as successors to Babe Ruth... it's a fair and even start...

Summer - TWO YOUNG MEN thrown into the whirlpool, still on even terms... summer days are long... habits develop, and one becomes careful, one careless... one conserves, one wastes... one seeks advice, one ignores it... one is known as a wise spender, one a good spender... what a difference the two words make...

Fall - TWO MEN on a park bench... the race is over... the winner completes the circle, to play-time again... the loser completes a circle, but only to childhood dependence on others...

AS THE race goes on, Experience, the great teacher, points out one unquestioned fact—the winners are those who make full use of Financial Service. A typical case: J. H. started even with the others twenty-five years ago. He saved. He listened to our advice when he had enough to invest. He asked our advice on other business matters. He established his credit. Today he is a winner, and "Mercantile Service" helped him win. His fall-time will be play-time.

TODAY "Mercantile Service" is bigger, better, more helpful than ever. It is helping men make play-time of life's fall-time. It will help you win your race—if you use it.

Which end of the bench will you occupy?

RECOVERING SLOWLY
Will Remain in Hospital Another Week.
ST. LOUIS, Oct. 15.—William McAdoo, former Secretary of the Treasury, who is a patient at Hopkins Hospital here, probably will have to remain at the institution another week, his physician, Hugh H. Young, said last night.

The physician added that McAdoo should not undertake the strenuous work of participating in the presidential campaign until some time after his release.

McAdoo underwent an operation for the removal of gravel from the bladder about nine days ago. His convalescence, Dr. Young said, is necessarily slow, although the results of the operation were satisfactory.

40 YEARS WITH SAME FIRM
Miss Sophia Goedeke Given Surprise Party and Check.
On the anniversary of 40 years of continuous employment in the packing department of the Mallinckrodt Chemical Works at 3600 North Second street, Miss Sophia Goedeke of 3520 North Eleventh street was given a surprise party by her fellow-employees yesterday.

In the company's dining room at noon she was given a birthday loving cup, both gifts of packing department employees, as well as a $100 check, the gift of Edward M. Mallinckrodt, president of the company.

Miss Goedeke was employed by the company Oct. 14, 1884, as a packer, and is now timekeeper in the same department. She lives with her mother and a sister.

DR. VAN DYKE SUPPORTS DAVIS FOR 5 REASONS
Princeton Professor Says Nominee Knows Constitution and Understands Foreign Affairs.
Special to the Post-Dispatch.
NEW YORK, Oct. 15.—Dr. Henry Van Dyke, former United States Minister to The Netherlands under Presidents Taft and Wilson and for 23 years professor of English literature at Princeton University, yesterday urged the election of John W. Davis.

Dr. Van Dyke, in an interview at Princeton, said Davis offered "the only way out of the present dubious and dangerous conditions." He enumerated five reasons why the Democratic candidate would make the best possible President.

Ability of Davis.
"First," he said, "he is a man of high intelligence, broad experience and deep conscience; his record is without stain or cloud, he has the ability to form clear judgments and the courage to speak them out plainly; he is not reserved or secretive, but frank and natural; he is not only honest himself, he will also demand honesty in his associates. Such a man at the helm will be good for the ship of State."

"Second, he knows the Constitution and upholds it as the safeguard of the individual and of the States which are united but not dissolved in the nation."

"Third, he is a real Progressive. He does not wish to destroy anything except that which is secretly destructive, like favoritism in government, the abominable tariff, which enriches the privileged few and impoverishes the overburdened many, and legislation manifestly in the interest of special classes. He wants prosperity to increase and everybody who earns to have a share in it. He hates official crookedness in high places and he is not afraid to call them by their proper names."

Understands Foreign Affairs.
"In the fourth, Mr. Davis understands international affairs. He is anxious for the United States to have a clear and definite foreign policy and to take her place in the peace-making councils of the world, not by the back door, but by the front door. He will redeem President Harding's promise of participation in the World Court, and the reduction of land and sea armaments."

"To stand pat," said Dr. Van Dyke as his fifth point, "means to ignore the odors of corruption in office, to maintain the strangling tariff and tacitly to encourage the Ku Klux Klan which already chooses the Republican candidates in several States. To vote for La Follette means to throw your ballot away on a man whose program is foggy and who cannot be elected. I believe Mr. Davis will be elected, for I believe that, after all, the people of the United States have common sense."

TWO KILLED IN PLANE CRASH
Occupants Burned Almost Beyond Recognition at Zoarville, O.
By the Associated Press.
DOVER, O., Oct. 15.—Harold Wood, 26 years old, of Canton, pilot, and Walter Murray, 35 years old, of Mineral City, passenger, were killed last night at Zoarville, near here, when an old army airplane in which they were riding went into a nose dive and crashed 200 feet. An explosion followed, setting the machine afire and burning the occupants almost beyond recognition.

The engineer of a Pennsylvania railroad train, seeing the accident, stopped his train near the scene. Passengers extinguished the flames with chemical outfits from aboard the train. The accident occurred when the pilot apparently lost control while attempting to land in a wheat field.

SEAPLANE SETS NONSTOP MARK
New Record of More Than 20 Hours' Flight Established Near Capital.
By the Associated Press.
WASHINGTON, Oct. 15.—An official world record for non-stop flight by a seaplane was set by a new scouting plane at Anacostia today, the plane remaining in the air 20 hours, 10 minutes and 10 seconds, against the former record of 14 hours, 53 minutes and 44 seconds.

Five days ago a composite type seaplane, single motor, stayed in the air 20 hours and 28 minutes but the flight was not properly checked and was not recognized.

Condemned Negro Gets Reprieve.
Special to the Post-Dispatch.
SPRINGFIELD, Ill., Oct. 15.—Hess Connor, a negro, of Pulaski County, who was to have been hanged next Friday for the murder of Daisy Wilson, daughter of a storekeeper at Villa Ridge, during a holdup, was granted a reprieve today by Gov. Small until Jan. 16, 1925. The reprieve was granted on a petition filed with the State Board of Pardons and Paroles, in which it was declared that Connor was of unsound mind and should be examined by a lunacy board.

Psychologist to Speak.
"An Art of Self-Culture" will be the subject of a free lecture to be given at the Hotel Chase at 8 o'clock tonight by Dr. Stanley Le Ferve Krebs, New York psychologist and author. The Rev. Robert Hall Atchinson, rector of St. George's Episcopal Church will preside, and Mrs. Eric T. Davis of Houston, Tex., will also speak.

WALE HAS A SPILL DURING FOX HUNT

Prince, Unhurt, Continues Ride at Ontario Event Arranged in His Honor.

By the Associated Press.
NEW MARKET, Ont., Oct. 15.—The Prince of Wales and a party of about 200 guests arrived here for a fox hunt in his honor at the Toronto Hunt Club today, but he was unhurt and continued his ride.

The Earl of Dunmore, who attended the hunt, also fell and returned to the residence of Sir William Mullock.

One hundred and fifty riders participated in the hunt. One fox was killed.

By the Associated Press.
TORONTO, Oct. 15.—The Prince of Wales and his party arrived here from Detroit at 9:25 o'clock this morning. After official greetings had been extended, the party motored to the King Edward Hotel for breakfast.

In the evening the Prince will dine at Government House and later probably attend a dance at the York Club.

By the Associated Press.
DETROIT, Mich., Oct. 15.—A Ford automobile, made of nickel-plated parts and assembled with nickel-plated tools, while the Prince of Wales stood by watching, was presented to His Royal Highness yesterday by his host, Henry Ford.

The Prince, according to those in his party, when he inspected the Highland Park plant, watched with an expression of amazement as the car was assembled, 17 minutes being required for the job. Accompanied by Henry and Edsel Ford, the Prince took a short ride about the yards in the "Prince of Wales Special," as the car was named. At the conclusion of the ride, the machine was presented to the Prince as a souvenir of his visit.

All that was possible in the way of privacy was given to the visit of the Prince. From the time the royal visitor from the observation car of his special train, waved his hat to the assembled throng which crowded the Highland Park yards of the Ford plant, until the Ford yacht, "Stella," took him across the Detroit River to Windsor, the Prince was the center of attention. In Detroit, residents caught but fleeting glimpses of the Prince.

Movements Closely Guarded.

As soon as the Prince left his train, the Ford organization threw an impenetrable wall of secrecy around the movements of the royal guest. But despite the attempt to shield the Prince from public view, several thousands gratified their curiosity for a glimpse of him. Crowds thronged the sidewalks as he passed the large windows while visiting the machine room. The Highland Park plant of the Ford company, other thousands were massed on the sidewalk near the Detroit Club, where a buffet supper was served to 45 guests.

A like crowd watched while the Prince went to the suite reserved for him at the Detroit Athletic Club and saw him leave to go to the residence of Edsel B. Ford for a dinner and dance in the evening, and many curious remained until after midnight around the Edsel Ford residence hoping for a chance to see him leave for his trip to Canada.

At the Detroit Club, a group of men, prominent in business and political circles, had been invited to be guests of Henry Ford at a buffet supper, in honor of the Prince. At the residence of Edsel Ford, 10 couples attended a dinner in honor of the Prince. Following this another small group attended a dance at the same residence.

125 Mules Killed in Fire.

HOPESTON, Ill., Oct. 15.—Fire of undetermined origin destroyed one of the barns of the Hoopeson Canning Co., with a loss of 125 mules, virtually all the company's farm equipment and a large quantity of hay and grain last night. The total loss was estimated at about $175,000. More than 120,000 bushels of oats and 1000 tons of hay were burned.

Road Building Far Behind the Automobile

Millions now recognize the automobile as a necessity. It is no longer a luxury for the few. Sixty per cent of its use is for business.

Because of this the modern paved highway has become an economic necessity.

Yet although the mileage of Concrete Roads and Streets has been steadily increasing, our highway system today lags far behind the automobile. The great majority of our highways are as out of date as the single-track, narrow gauge railway of fifty years ago.

Such a condition not only seriously handicaps the progress of the automobile as a comfortable, profitable means of transportation, but also holds back commercial, industrial and agricultural advancement in practically every section of the country. It is costing taxpayers millions of dollars annually.

Highway building should be continued and enlarged upon.

Your highway authorities are ready to carry on their share of this great public work. But they must have your support. Tell them you are ready to invest in more and wider Concrete Highways now.

THE Jewel Gas Range has long had the reputation of baking better and cooking better. The new model sustains this well-earned reputation. And in addition it has added conveniences that make the Jewel by long odds the finest and most desirable Range that can be obtained.

Kitchen Heater Built In

This new model has a full-size oven, a full-size four-burner cooking top and a kitchen heater built in. Yet it takes only 34 inches of floor space—just 13 1/2 inches more than a range without heater. This Heater is a wonderful convenience. It burns coal or wood and can be started in a minute or less by means of the gas lighter. Heats up the whole kitchen in a few minutes. You'll like that on cold mornings. Also serves as an odorless incinerator for trash and garbage; it dries out garbage, then burns it.

How Many Men Keep Youthful Looking

It is well known that within recent years the men have become extensive users of beauty specialists and make-up. Not only the fastidious, but men generally who have a care for personal appearance. This has also led to the employment by many of home methods calculated to enhance or preserve physical attractiveness. Of these, perhaps the most widely used is the mercolized wax treatment, which explains the mystery of the silver-haired gentleman with the youthful face. The mercolized wax, obtainable at any drug store (one ounce will do), is applied the same as cold cream. This gradually absorbs the dead and half-dead cuticle in tiny particles, revealing the fresher, healthier-bred skin beneath. To secure best results many apply wax at night, washing it off in the morning. Women not only encourage husbands in this, but use the treatment themselves.

BOARD RESTORES CENTRAL HIGH SCHOOL'S 1923 FOOTBALL TITLE

Forfeiture of Trophy by Principals Is Overruled; Precedent Is Established

Joe and Asbestos—Picking Two at a Time Is Serious Business

Action Virtually Means That the School Board Hereafter Will Act on All Appeals—Grand Avenue School Is Expected to Resume Athletics.

By Dent McKim.
Central High School's football championship of 1923, taken away by the principals of the high schools because of the use of an ineligible player, was restored to the school last night by the Board of Education, which acted upon a resolution adopted at a mass meeting of pupils, teachers and alumni of Central.

It is considered probable that the school will return to the High School Athletic League competition immediately but Principal Stephen A. Douglas would make an indefinite announcement to this effect today. He had not been officially advised of the board's ruling.

It will be necessary to determine whether the demands of the pupils, teachers and alumni have been met before Central will return to athletic competition. However, since the student council voted to return to the league several weeks ago it is probable that Central teams will take part in the football competition this fall.

No action at Central.
Principal Douglas would not comment upon the report that Central will now voluntarily relinquish its right to the 1923 football championship. It has been rumored that Central has been willing to drop its claim to the title, but that it protested against the arbitrary action of the principals in taking the championship away. President John C. Tobin of the Board of Education said today that he had been informed that there was some inclination on the part of Central authorities to voluntarily give up the championship.

No action was taken by the board on the suggestion embodied in the Central resolution seeking the appointment of a non-partisan board of control for high school athletics, taking the matter out of the hands of the principals.

Stratford Lee Morton, chairman of the alumni committee which forced the Board of Education to reopen the athletic question, said today that he believed the action of the board satisfied the more important demands of the alumni and pupils and anticipates no difficulty in getting Central teams back into competition.

Precedent Established.
The Board has set a precedent in reversing the action of the principals and it may therefore be unnecessary for us to push our suspension of the appointment of a board of control and appeal and if the action shows that it stands willing to right a wrong," Mr. Morton commented.

The High School League season is scheduled to open on Oct. 25. One week from next Saturday. At the present time the league has no adequate field for its games. President Tobin, himself a member of the committee named to provide a field, said today that there is under consideration a very satisfactory field centrally located but he said that arrangements for the use of the ground had not yet been completed.

The question of whether Mike Walker and C. A. Callen will return as coaches of football, basketball and baseball at Central remains unsettled pending the decision of the school as to its reentry into the league.

It is known that the two coaches were highly dissatisfied with the general conduct of the league while under the direction of the principals and the mere awarding of the football title to Central may not remove all of their objections.

ALL TITLE EPINARD AND WISE COUNSELLOR TO MEET IN LAUREL STAKE

Haynes, Who Rode French Horse to Three Defeats, Will Not Have the Mount

Wertheimer Stable Jockey to Sail for France With Owner—Trainer Leigh Expects to Campaign Epinard in Maryland—Five-Cornered Race Now Proposed.

By the Associated Press.

CINCINNATI, O., Oct. 15.—Epinard, the French 4-year-old colt that finished second in the three international special races run at Belmont Park, Aqueduct and Latonia, was on his way back East today. This time the son of Badajoz and Epine Blanche was shipped to Maryland to run in the $10,000 added Laurel Stakes next Saturday, which will be decided at one mile. Wise Counsellor is entered in this event.

According to trainer Eugene Leigh, no definite time for closing the American campaign has been decided upon. The Wertheimer colorbearer is entered in the Washington handicap at Laurel, Oct. 25, and four important events during the Pimlico fall season. Leigh desires to start the colt in all of these races. He indicated that the French champion would be shipped back home after the Maryland engagements are completed, unless some special event is arranged.

Col. M. J. Winn, general manager of the Kentucky Jockey Club, told Leigh that if he and P. A. Wertheimer, Chicago owner, got together on a proposed match between Epinard and Wise Counsellor, while at Laurel, he would make them an offer for a race at Churchill Downs, Louisville, Black Gold to be included.

According to advices from Chicago, Mr. Burton seeks an international race, in which Sarazen, Ladkin and Wise Counsellor, winners of the three international events already run, would meet Epinard, and Black Gold, Kentucky Derby winner.

Epinard will not have the services of jockey Everett Haynes in the remaining races in this country. Trainer Leigh says Haynes would accompany Pierre Wertheimer to France, leaving New York next Saturday. Although he has not yet decided a rider for his charge, Leigh said he had several capable jockeys under consideration.

Leigh's Campaign in Leigh's Hands. NEW YORK, Oct. 15.—Pierre Wertheimer, owner of Epinard, expressed a willingness, yesterday, to start his horse in at least one more special race when he is in the hands of Leigh, who is authorized to use his judgment to race him further in this country before shipping him back to France.

It has been known for some time that Wertheimer's trainer and jockey were not the best of terms. Max Hirsch said at Latonia on Saturday that he would enter Sarazen if another animal was arranged, either at Louisville or in Maryland.

Famous Winning Football Plays---No. 11

ROPER'S PRINCETON LONG PASS

THIS Princeton forward pass as developed by Coach Bill Roper is one of the most radical plays seen on any gridiron. This particular formation has been especially effective against Harvard. Only a fast and resourceful defense can stop this pass short of a gain.

The theory of this play is to keep on left side and three players on right side behind line with player under center. At signal one of the players on right side, or two if a tackle is to be eligible, jump to the line.

Center passes direct to No. 1, who stands well back.

In the group on the right No. 4 goes straight down the field, No. 3 turns to the outside while No. 5 runs inside behind the line, moves that tend to confuse the seconddary defense.

Left end, No. 6 either goes down deep or steps just across the line and in either case may receive the ball if the passer sees he is uncovered.

Another variation to this play is to have No. 2, the player near center, run slowly to the right and take a short pass if the opportunity is favorable.

Misses Hagemeyer and Crunden Win

Capture Women's Doubles Net Title From Mrs. Baer and Miss Wempner.

By Davison O'bear.

Lottie Hagemeyer of the Forest Hills Tennis Club and Catherine Crunden, representing the St. Louis Country Club, won the doubles championship in the St. Louis triennial tournament for women players on the Forest Hills courts yesterday afternoon. The new champions defeated Mrs. Mellicent Baer and Lillian Wempner, former municipal titleholders, in three set match, 6-1, 5-7, 7-5.

The first two sets of the match were played Sunday afternoon, the third set being postponed on account of darkness.

In the deciding set yesterday play was very close. Mrs. Baer and Miss Wempner led at 4 to 3 but lost the next game. Miss Hagemeyer and Miss Crunden gained a lead of 5 to 4 but dropped the tenth game which brought the set to deuce. By more consistent playing Miss Hagemeyer and Miss Crunden captured the following two games, taking the set at 7-5 and the match.

The remaining semifinal in the singles event was completed yesterday. Lottie Hagemeyer defeated Lillian Wempner and earned the right to oppose Mrs. Baer in the final. The score was 6-0, 7-5. Miss Hagemeyer and Mrs. Baer will play the final singles match Saturday afternoon. Mrs. Baer, who recently captured the Tri-State title at Burlington, Ia., is favored to win.

In addition to the women's singles and doubles a mixed doubles event was held. Miss Hagemeyer and Fred Jostles of Forest Hills winning the title.

Barrow Says Yanks Are Willing to Make A Trade for Shocker

By Leased Wire From the New York Bureau of the Post-Dispatch.

NEW YORK, Oct. 15.—Edward G. Barrow, business manager of the New York Yankees, yesterday confirmed the report that Miller Huggins is planning several changes in the Yankees for next season.

Huggins signed a two-year contract in October, 1923, which has one more year to run.

"The story that the Yankees are willing to negotiate for Urban Shocker, pitcher of the St. Louis Browns, is true," said Barrow. "The Browns offered him to the Yankees in mid-season for Waite Hoyt, but Huggins couldn't see it."

"He doesn't see it now. However, the story has come from the Mound City that Shocker will not play again in that city and the Yankees are mildly interested."

If the Browns will take some other pitcher or player than Hoyt a deal may be arranged whereby the famous spitball expert, who once belonged to the Yanks, will come back.

One more temperamental star won't make any difference, apparently.

Billikens Seek To Stop Fumbles

Catch Savage Drill Men in Holding the Ball When Tackled.

Coach Savage of St. Louis University set about yesterday to devise a defense against the Loyola University forward pass, threat which he will have to meet next Saturday when the Chicagoans make their second annual call here. In their victory over James Milliken last week the Northwesterns used this style of play to great effect, and dispatches from Chicago indicate that they intend to employ it even more against the Billikens.

The frosh have a number of the Loyola plays and used them against the varsity, while the first squad men exerted themselves to break the passes. The varsity also took the ball and went through an hour of offensive scrimmage and all hands took a short course in how to hold a ball so it will not slip loose when the runner is tackled, a circumstance which held Saturday's score down to a minimum. The dust is so bad on the Billiken field where the baseball infield is located that the smooth surface of the ball acquires a coat which renders it very slippery.

All hands are in good shape but Savage is having a hard time getting the men out on time. As it is now, he has less than two hours of practice daily, as many of the players taking professional courses cannot get off from classes in time. Three likely looking backfield prospects have been lost to the team for this reason. Falk, Ormond and Taylor looked like real finds in their brief stay on the squad.

Cratty Beats Dorsey.

In the Class B pocket billiard tournament at Ararat, J. Cratty defeated P. Dorsey yesterday, 15 to 25. The winner had a high run of nine.

LINCOLN IS FOUND SANE; FACES TRIAL FOR TWO MURDERS

Jury in Illinois Court Declares Confessed Slayer Is Normal Mentally at Present.

GENEVA, Ill., Oct. 15.—Warren J. Lincoln, lawyer, horticulturist of Aurora, who killed his wife and her brother and incited their heads in a concrete block, was found to be sane by a jury in Circuit Court here last night.

The verdict cleared the way for his trial next month on murder charges. Lincoln, throughout the hearing, had objected to his attorney's contention that he was insane.

The jury deliberated an hour and a half, taking one ballot. Lay and expert testimony had been offered during the hearing, some witnesses declaring he was normal mentally, or at least, legally sane, others asserting the crime was proof of derangement.

To Ask for Death Penalty.
Charles Abbott, State Attorney, said he would ask the next jury for a death penalty verdict. Lincoln's attorneys said they would plead insanity.

The Court, in instructing the jury, admonished it that it was only to determine Lincoln's mental condition at the present time, to find whether he is fully conscious of what is going on, whether he knows now what his crime involves and whether he is capable of advising with counsel as to his defense. Whether or not he was insane when the crimes were committed, the Court instructed, was not to be considered by the jury, as this will form a part of the defense in the murder trial itself.

Confessed Double Murder.
Lincoln disappeared from his Aurora home, leaving behind evidence which led the authorities to believe he had been slain and a search was started for his wife and Byron Shoup, her brother, in the belief that they might be implicated.

Months later Lincoln reappeared, with a story of having been kidnapped by his wife and her brother and still later again disappeared. After regaling the authorities with many sensational stories, he finally confessed that he had killed both his wife and her brother, burned their bodies in his greenhouse furnace and cast their heads in a block of concrete, which he used for a time for a porch support at his home.

TOBIN NAMED PRESIDENT OF BOARD OF EDUCATION

Democrat, Who Held Position in 1921-22, Succeeds H. A. Roskopf, a Republican.

John C. Tobin, an attorney and president of the Board of Education in 1921-1922 was again elected to head the public school system at the board's regular meeting last night. H. F. Fahrenkrog was chosen vice president.

In a brief acceptance speech, Tobin declared the board during his administration probably would perfect plans for financing any new building programs with bond issues.

Tobin, a Democrat, succeeds Henry A. Roskopf, a Republican, as president of the board. Roskopf served two consecutive terms and justified his acceptance of the second term, contrary to custom, by saying the board at the time of his second election was no longer bipartisan, but was a Republican organization and should be headed by a Republican. There are now nine Republicans and three Democrats on the board.

No action was taken by the board toward the selection of a secretary-treasurer. This post has been vacant since the death of Charles P. Mason more than six months ago. Hugh McNamee, who served 17 years as Mason's assistant and who is a leading candidate for the position, is acting secretary-treasurer.

Court Hears Discourse on Dogs.

CINCINNATI, O., Oct. 15.—Members of the United States Circuit Court of Appeals today heard a discourse on dogs during the argument of an appeal from Memphis, Tenn., of T. E. McLendon, dog raiser and fancier. McLendon alleged there was error in the Federal Court trial, which found him guilty of using the mails to sell dogs, which the Government claimed were not as represented. McLendon lives in Germantown, near Memphis, and he was sentenced to serve five years in the Atlanta penitentiary, following his conviction.

ASSOCIATION FOR CRIMINAL JUSTICE IN STATE FORMED

Will Make Survey of Law Administration With View to Effecting Improvement.

NEW ORGANIZATION HOLDS FIRST SESSION

Move Is Decided Upon at Meeting of Civic Bodies in Jefferson City.

By a Staff Correspondent of the Post-Dispatch.

JEFFERSON CITY, Oct. 15.—The Missouri Association for Criminal Justice held the first meeting of its history here this afternoon preparing its organization for a survey of the administration of criminal justice in this State, with the object of effecting improvement.

Its history will be cumulative and never reach "final," the founders hope, for they look to the projected survey as the basis of continuous work to see that justice is firm, fair and swift in criminal cases.

A pro forma decree of incorporation was issued to the association by Circuit Judge here this noon, and the Secretary of State issued a certificate.

Unanimous Action.

Incorporation was decided on unanimously this morning by a conference of representatives of Missouri civic organizations. Attorney-General Barrett addressed the morning conference. The meeting was called in the House of Representatives by Guy A. Thompson, of St. Louis, retiring president of the Missouri Bar Association, to consider the report of the association's special committee on crime, which was headed by Arthur V. Lashly, of Webster Groves. Lashly announced the proposal for a permanent organization in an address, in which he told of his findings in Chicago and Cleveland, where organizations that grew out of crime surveys are functioning.

About 75 Present.

There were about 75 men and women present, including a number of lawyers, several Circuit Judges, Circuit Attorney Siders and Chief of Police O'Brien of St. Louis. Chancellor Hadley of Washington University, who recently made a study of criminal justice, sent regrets.

"We are not assembled to vent private malice or spleen," said Thompson. "We are not here to criticize any prosecuting official or police head."

Thompson was made chairman after former United States Senator X. P. Willey, new president of the Missouri Bar Association, had opened the conference.

Thirty doctors were suggested by a nominating committee. These included the following St. Louisans: Chancellor Hadley of Washington University; Mrs. Howard Bailey, Mrs. Irwin Bellman, Leo Fuller, Breckinridge Jones, Arthur V. Lashly, Arthur T. Morri, Dr. Emmett P. North, Fergus J. Wade and X. P. Willey. Ten directors were chosen from Kansas City and 18 from elsewhere, including Attorney-General Barrett.

The previously drafted by-law were adopted with some amendments.

Thompson read letters giving these murder statistics for 1923: In St. Louis 112 were committed, of which 22 remain unsolved; Kansas City had 58, with seven unsolved; Chicago had 235, with 78 unsolved; Philadelphia, 183, with eight unsolved, and London, with population exceeding the aggregate of these four cities, had only 27, all of which were solved.

Proposed By-Laws.

"To conduct a statewide survey of the administration of criminal justice and of the cause and conditions of crime in the State; to initiate and secure the passage of such legislation and to take such other remedial action tending to diminish crime and to improve the administration of criminal justice as are deemed necessary, or as are suggested by the findings and recommendations of such survey, and to promote and secure an intelligent and efficient administration of criminal justice within the State, through constructive operation with all officers, departments, tribunals and agencies—state, city and county—charged with the duty of suppression, prevention and punishment of crime.

The association shall exist for 50 years; the principal office shall be at Jefferson City, with branches at St. Louis, Kansas City and possibly elsewhere; there shall be an annual public meeting on the second Tuesday in January; there shall be 20 directors; the association's work shall be in charge of an operating director, under the officers and directors; no individual shall be in charge unless there is money on hand to pay him; Active membership is to be restricted to organization representatives and individuals signing the roll here today, and organization representatives who may be taken in with the directors' approval.

later. Associate membership is to be restricted to supreme, appellate and circuit Judges of Missouri, the Governor and Attorney-General, all Prosecuting Attorneys and Sheriffs of the State, the circuit attorneys of St. Louis, the Chief of Police of each of the four largest cities, the State penitentiary Warden, the chairman of the State Board of Charities and Corrections and the president of the State Prison Board.

There are to be the following standing committees: Survey, Statistics, Legislation, Police, Prosecution, Juris, Courts, Clemency, Punishment, Institutions, Finance and Publicity.

"It may be said that the problem is a large city one," said Lashly in his introductory address, "and that there is no necessity for extending it to be smaller cities and the rural counties. That may be true, but if a survey is to be made, it could not be difficult enough more extensive to extend to counties containing cities like St. Joseph, Springfield, Joplin and Jefferson City and to a typical group of say, ten strictly rural counties and then we would have before us upon completion of the survey the whole of the administration of criminal justice in the State. The State-wide character of the movement is important too, from the standpoint of obtaining needed legislation, because the members of the Legislature from every district will be apprised of the interest in the work through the members of this body in their respective districts."

$50,000 Estimated Cost.
Lashly said he thought $50,000 or less would pay for a proper survey in Missouri in light of Cleveland's experience and expressed conviction that public spirited persons would see that amount was made available.

He declared also that officials generally will welcome the survey with some exceptions, which "will only serve to emphasize the necessity for the survey." Gathering of facts and analysis of them must be impartial, he pointed out, and not done with a view of "getting" any one. We warned against trying to cover too much ground.

9000-Mile Radio Communication.

By the Associated Press.

HARTFORD, Conn., Oct. 15.—H. Johnson of Short Beach, Conn., reported to the American Radio League today that he had communicated with Ivan O'Meara at Glaborn, New Zealand, in both directions, a distance of 9000 miles. Johnson operates amateur station 1-SP. The best previous record for distance reported, according to the league, was by W. B. Magner of San Pedro, Cal., who communicated with Frank D. Bell of Waiheno, New Zealand, a distance of 8900 miles.

ORDER AGAINST SALE OF STOCK MADE PERMANENT

St. Louis Firm Restrained From Disposing of Its Securities by State Head.

JEFFERSON CITY, Oct. 15.—A temporary suspension of the permit of the Midcontinent Finance Corporation of St. Louis to sell its own stock, ordered Oct. 4 last, was made permanent by Deputy Finance Commissioner Hurwitz, in charge of the "blue sky" division of the Finance Department.

In a formal notice sent to the Midcontinent company this afternoon, Hurwitz stated an examination of the affairs of the company had disclosed "That it is being conducted apparently for the sole benefit of C. J. Gonterman, with little or no regard for the welfare of the stockholders who are financing the project." For that reason he stated, the temporary order revoking and canceling the permit of the company would be made permanent and final.

The order followed investigation of a report by a State Examiner, George W. Berri, that the money derived from sales of stock in the company, organized by C. J. Gonterman, a real estate dealer, was being used to finance the real estate deals of the C. J. Gonterman Realty and Development Co., which occupies the same offices with the Finance company, 705 Central National Bank Building. Berri's report stated that as late as money was taken in from sale of stock of the Finance Corporation, it was taken over by Gonterman for operations of the Gonterman Realty Co., which then was charged on the books as being indebted to the Finance Corporation for those sums.

Total stock sold amounted to $325,900, the majority of the stockholders being in Illinois, where Gonterman conducted most of his real estate operations. No dividends have been paid on the stock, Hurwitz said.

Miners' Association

SPRINGFIELD, Ill., Oct. 15.—Frank Farrington has been elected for re-election as president of the Illinois Mine Workers' Union, district 10, at a convention today. John W. Hindsmann, election, his strongest competitor, received 76 nominations and 12 local unions in the district, where Hindsmann had 16 nominations, against 16 local unions that nominated Farrington. Farrington was elected by 111 local unions. Farrington was elected by 111 local unions. Farrington was elected by 111 local unions.

Robber Goes On

ORGY OF HOLDUPS IN KANSAS CITY

Forces Chauffeur to Drive Him to Four Successive Robberies During Afternoon.

KANSAS CITY, Oct. 15.—A robber who held up four stores yesterday afternoon and identified as one of the two men who yesterday morning raided the Gray diamond shop in the downtown district and escaped in a half of a bullet, was captured late yesterday in a pistol fight with two patrolmen.

The robber, who gave his name as John Ray Smith, 38 years old, was wounded twice in the arm, and John B. Stuckey, a chauffeur, who was forced to drive him to his headquarters, was wounded.

Following the last holdup of the day, that of a pawnshop, the car was in the robbery was sighted by the two motor crime patrolmen, who at the time were acting as an escort for collectors for an oil company.

Chauffeur Shot.

They pursued and overtook the machine on Admiral boulevard, a few blocks east of the downtown district. Smith opened fire with a revolver and the officers returned the fire. When a bullet clipped Smith's arm he dropped his gun. The officers declared Stuckey picked up the weapon and prepared to fire. Before he could pull the trigger, the officers said, Stuckey slumped down. He had been hit several times in the ribs and had poured into the car.

At the motor livery company where Stuckey worked, it was declared that he had been forced to accompany Smith. In the series of holdups, Smith told his victims he was calling the chauffeur to drive him.

Smith was identified at police headquarters as one of the participants in the morning diamond robbery in which stones valued at several thousand dollars were obtained.

H. F. Hauserman, a watchman at the diamond shop, was dangerously wounded when he tried to stop the robbers as they fled from the place.

Three other persons were wounded by stray bullets fired after one of the handouts as he made a spectacular dash down Main street in a motor car. The other handout disappeared in the crowd that quickly gathered.

"Out for $1000."

Smith appeared at the taxicab stand where Stuckey was employed in the afternoon and told the chauffeur a $1 bill instructed him to drive to a nearby address, was reported.

Arriving at the place, Smith ordered a drug store, where he obtained about $50 from customers. He returned to the taxicab, holding a revolver at Stuckey. The pair then drove to another drug store where Smith's lost amount of $95 in silver.

"I'm out for $1000 before midnight," the robber boasted.

"There's no chance for a poor man to make an honest living and just had to have money. My wife and four children need clothing and food," he told his victims.

A few minutes later Smith appeared at a grocery store. Stuckey ordered the store with his hands over his head. Smith followed with his revolver trained on the driver.

"I'm paying him to drive me and have him under my gun to keep him with me," Smith told the proprietor.

This robbery yielded $20 in cash. Note Is Found.

Several persons confronted by the robber in the series of holdups said he appeared to be under the influence of liquor or narcotics.

Smith would not give his address. Police expressed the belief that he was an alien.

After the morning robbery it was learned Smith went to the New York Life Building, a few blocks from the Gray Diamond Shop. In a washroom of the building the following note was found:

"Smith—a good day's work while I am safe here taking it easy, and here three minutes after we are away from Gray's. My partner knows in O. K., and we leave Kansas City with a smile."

"Thank you, business is good. Your hick cops are the best."

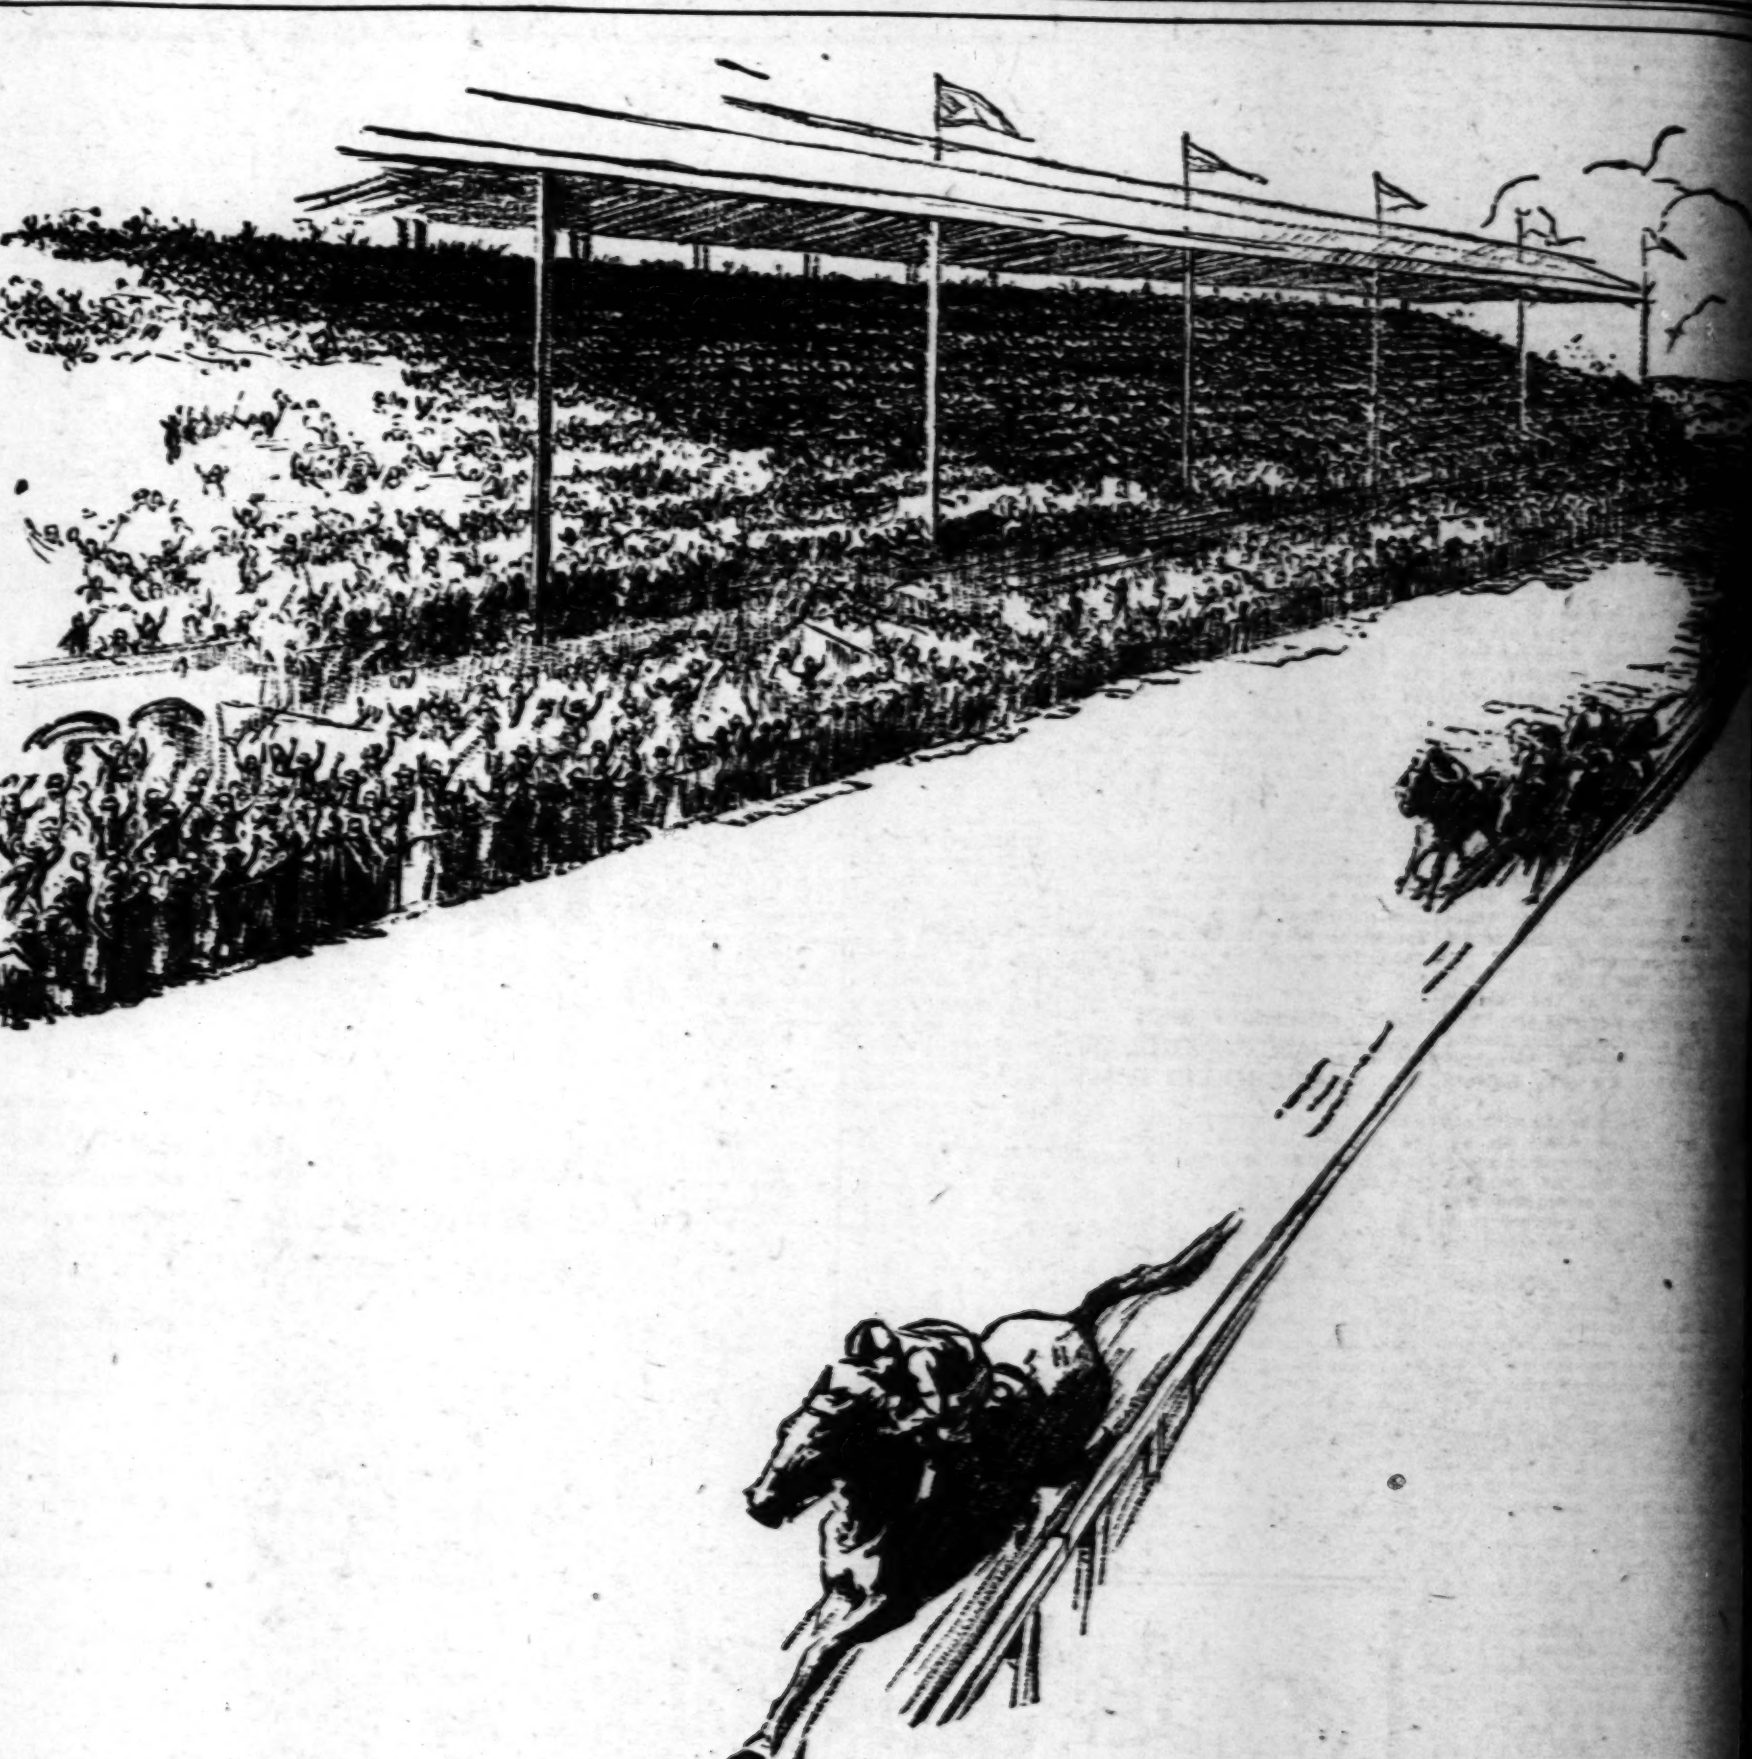

Yesterday morning from Wichita a railroad ticket in his pocket was for transportation from that city to Chicago. He had obtained a stopover here, he said, "to pull a few jobs" before completing his tour.

A second man was arrested late last night at a hotel here in connection with the Gray Diamond shop holdup. He gave his name as Joseph Judy.

Judy was identified by victims of the holdup as one of the two robbers who entered the shop. He was captured after bloodhounds led the police to where he was hiding in the hotel lobby. When taken to police headquarters he refused to talk.

Burglary Deductions.

A new dormitory, Irwin Hall, will be dedicated at Lindenwood College Friday morning, Oct. 24. The building will deliver the promised address.

The Woman Who Always Calls a Taxi

When her friends tell her she's extravagant—she shows them the monthly cost. Much less that what their own cars cost them, she says, and she's right. Chauffeur-driven, too.

Until you get the habit, it's hard to call a taxi. "Oh well," you say, "I'll save that dollar"—and yet you can call a taxi every time it's really needed and your monthly expense will still be less than most cars would cost you to operate.

'PLAZA CHARLIE' AND 'FOURTH ST. FIRPO' IN TILT

Former Judge Rutledge and Oliver T. Remmers in Debate at Advertising Club Luncheon.

"Plaza Charlie" and "Fourth Street Firpo" had a two-round encounter, styled a debate, on the current question of where to put the new $1,000,000 courthouse, at the Advertising Club luncheon at the City Club yesterday.

There was no decision, inasmuch as that will lie with the voters at the November 4 election, when the referendum on the ordinance locating the courthouse on Memorial plaza will come up. The plaza battler had a slight edge on applause.

Introductions Given.
The pugilistic introductions were given by R. Fullerton Place, the referee, or club president, who pointed out that the opponents had been seated at opposite corners. "Plaza Charlie" was former Circuit Judge Charles W. Rutledge, chairman of the Plaza Courthouse Committee, opposing the object of the referendum, and "Fourth Street Firpo" was Oliver T. Remmers, counsel of the Courthouse Referendum Committee, favoring a site south of the present courthouse, between Fourth street and Broadway. Their verbal tilt was entirely gentlemanly, though spiced with some "defys" and "resents."

John H. Gunlach, chairman of the referendum group, sat near Remmers, and John F. Quenny, one of the chief backers of this group, who owns the old Southern Hotel property, on the block south of the proposed Broadway site, sat next to Rutledge. The referee probably meant no pun when he said Marquis of Queensberry rules would prevail. In the debate, which served to draw the lines of the issue as the election approaches, former Judge Rutledge said: "This is not just a question of locating a public building, but of keeping faith with the people who voted the bond issue. We presented a plan to the people and they voted for it." He displayed a bond issue campaign poster picturing the courthouse among other buildings flanking a plaza around Twelfth boulevard, read from a campaign pamphlet about this, and went on: "It's a breach of faith to put this courthouse some place else to please a few persons."

"City Owns Site."
"The city owns the Twelfth boulevard site and can spend the whole $4,000,000 for a building," continued Rutledge. The Circuit Judges who prepared a list of building needs were advised by architects that all this sum would be required for a building. The estimated cost of condemning the land on Broadway is $1,500,000.

"We need a new courthouse worse than we need anything else. The main points are: First, keep faith with the people, and, second, build the courthouse with the money the people voted and don't spend $1,500,000 for a backward location; use a progressive location we own already; add beauty and dignity to St. Louis." (Twenty-five seconds applause.)

Taking up the Broadway site, Remmers said: "Sometimes we are charged with being a selfish group. John H. Gunlach, our chairman, has spent time and money for 25 years for civic improvement. It is fundamentally necessary for a city to be planned to grow from its water front. The Father of Waters, that gave this town birth, has been neglected. We can't go back to it if we remove a public building from the principal downtown street. We plan a plaza at Union Station and one opposite the city hall; why not go to the lower end of Market street and build another?"

"Let us follow the example of L'Enfant, the great engineer who laid out Washington, and not try to put everything here within nine city blocks. L'Enfant made Washington the 'city of magnificent distances.'"

"You can't go behind the con-

Milk of Magnesia and Mineral Oil Now Combined

It has always been necessary to prescribe milk of magnesia and mineral oil separately, even though it has been generally recognized that, to be most effective, they should work together.

Haley's Magnesia-Oil is a highly successful combination of both. It is harmless, causes no griping or nausea, and may be safely taken in large doses. Very palatable—no oily taste. Can be mixed with milk and given children without their knowledge.

The oil carries the magnesia straight to the lower bowel, the seat of most so-called stomach trouble. Both oil and magnesia work together. Their individual effectiveness is immeasurably increased and the result is much quicker and more positive action.

Get a bottle of Haley's Magnesia-Oil to-day. It is the only one that will give you relief of pain. Trial size, 25¢; full size, 50¢. The Haley M-O Company, Indianapolis, Ind.

tract and in this case the bond issue ballot was the contract, not some imaginary picture. That contract mentions only one public building, the soldiers' memorial. Talk about keeping faith! That picture of the opposition shows four imaginary buildings on the plaza, the Hall of Records, Educational Building, Museum and Government building; it's a well-known fact the Government has bought the southeast corner of Fourth and Chestnut streets for a site and we've learned there is no intention to give it up.

"Then, there's the opinion of Ramsieur & Goodwin, attorneys, that if we remove the courthouse, title to the old site will revert to the heirs of Lucas and Chouteau, the donors. I don't care what other lawyers say; the Supreme Court has the last word. Can we gamble with that historic courthouse? Our estimate of the cost of the Broadway site are much less than that of our opponents. The two blocks could be thrown together and they could keep the seal, the clerk's office and possibly a few non-jury cases in the old building to retain it. We need new hospitals and sewers more than a new courthouse." (Fifteen seconds applause.)

Rutledge, in rebuttal, said: "Remmers says there is nothing authoritative about this plaza picture, yet the campaign managing committee printed it. This talk about a river plaza and title to the courthouse is all camouflage." As he proceeded to explain his reasons for suspecting camouflage, Remmers interrupted: "Stick to the facts, Charlie," and the referee broke the clinch with his gavel. Rutledge continued: "Ramsieur & Goodwin have been Mr. Quenny's attorneys for many years. The City Counselor has given an opinion that the old courthouse title wouldn't revert in case of removal, as has a Bar Association committee headed by Richard A. Jones." (Three seconds applause.)

Remmers, in reply, said: "We have no intention of asking that a plaza extend from Fourth street to the river, between Chestnut and Walnut, nor that the old Catholic Cathedral on Walnut be torn down for that."

Rutledge: "Last night, in another debate, I mentioned the Government's ownership of the Fourth street corner and Remmers had to move his plaza to Third street. I mentioned the cathedral and he had to move to Second street. I mentioned the railroads on the levee and he was left out in the river!"

CONTRIBUTING TO A WORTHY CAUSE.

I USED to be on the lecture platform myself. Possibly that is why I appreciate the point of a little story emanating from British sources.

It would seem that a popular novelist turned public speaker and went on tour through England, not for profit, but with a view to uplifting the masses. One of his first engagements he appeared, by invitation, before the members of a newly formed provincial literary society.

At the conclusion of his address the secretary of the organization came to him and tendered him a check for a modest sum. The distinguished visitor politely waved it aside.

"I am not doing this for the money which may be in it," he explained. "I very much prefer that you apply the sum to some worthy local charity."

"Oh, thank you—most generous of you, I'm sure," said the grateful secretary. "Would you mind if we added the amount of this honorarium to our own Special Fund?"

"What is the purpose of this Special Fund?"

EVER since it was built, the mansion of former U. S. Senator Clark of Montana has been one of the show places of upper Fifth avenue. Invariably the magophone orators on the rubber neck hacks that ply up and down New York's most impressive thoroughfare point the lefty pile out to their patrons, directing particular attention to certain of its artistic peculiarities. Nor is there any recorded instance where the observers failed to be impressed.

Years ago a local wag gave directions for discovering the famous residence without the aid of a guide.

"It," he said, "you happen to be walking along the east side of the street and at a corner you come to an enormous building and just then an architect comes along and takes one look at it and falls down on the sidewalk and has an epileptic fit, why you know that you are passing the Clark place."

But I think the best description was furnished by Glen Macdonough, the playwright. He was piloting a country cousin about on a sight-seeing tour. He aimed a finger across the way and said:
